Two directors not in the picture are George Bevington, Winterburn, District 5, and T. Oullet, Donnelly, of District 2. The union's executive officers were elected Wednesday at the union convention, and the directors were elected at district conventions, held last year.

Social Security Plan For Canada Outlined In Throne Address

By FRANK FLAHERTY

OTTAWA, Jan. 27.—(CP)—Creation of three new departments of government designed to take long steps in the direction of social security and in the maintenance and development of the national economy after the war was forecast in the Speech from the Throne read today at the opening of the 1944 parliament.

As the fifth session, perhaps the last of the 19th parliament, opened the speech gave members the most ambitious budget of prospective legislation offered a single session of parliament in many years.

Here are the principal proposals on which the government will seek the approval of parliament:

- 1—Family allowances.
- 2—Establishment of an industrial development bank to provide credits for conversion of war industries to peacetime uses.
- 3—A bill to ensure or guarantee export credits to aid in obtaining export markets.

New Post-War Planning Departments

- 4—Creation of three departments of government in the fields of post-war planning—veterans' affairs to handle rehabilitation of service personnel and pensions, reconstruction to promote planning for national development and post-war employment, and social welfare, to administer federal activities in health and social insurance.
- 5—A revision of the Bank Act.
- 6—Provision for voting of men and women in the forces.
- 7—A bill to extend the principle of mutual aid to post-war relief of liberated countries.
- 8—Approval for Canadian participation in an international organization to maintain peace.

Service Gratuities For Veterans

- 9—A bill to provide war service gratuities for persons who serve in the armed forces and other measures to supplement the existing rehabilitation program.
- 10—Expansion of research activities.
- 11—New housing legislation.
- 12—After consultation and agreement with the provinces a national health insurance bill and provision for a contributory old age pension system on a more generous basis.

- 13—A bill to place a floor under prices of staple farm products.

Fair and Milder Weather Forecast

Although the overnight temperature in Edmonton sank lower last night than it has for several weeks, further cold weather is not predicted in the forecast. The overnight low Wednesday was just two degrees above zero and the maximum reached during the day was 23 degrees above. At 8:30 a.m. the temperature was still two degrees below the forecast for today and tomorrow promises "fair and milder." At 2 p.m. the temperature was 12 above zero, and the overnight low was estimated at 1 above zero.

C.C.F. to Contest 3 Calgary Seats

CALGARY, Jan. 27.—(CP)—Ald. R. T. Alderman and H. A. Wieritz were nominated C.C.F. candidates in the next provincial election at a meeting of the Calgary C.C.F. Constituency Association here last night. Cpl. Calvin Helmer, M.M., who was previously nominated as a C.C.F. candidate when it was thought a by-election would be called to fill the vacant seat in the legislature left by the late Premier William Aberhart, will retain his nomination for the next general provincial election. Thus three C.C.F. candidates will be in the contest for the five provincial seats allowed to this city.

Nippon Transport Carrying British Prisoners Is Sunk

LONDON, Jan. 27.—(CP)—The sinking of a Japanese transport carrying British prisoners of war from Java last Nov. 29 was disclosed today in a war office announcement that a list of victims had been received from the Japanese government. The brief statement, which did not give the number of casualties, said urgent inquiries were being made into the circumstances of the sinking.

Roosevelt Demands Vote For the Forces

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—President Roosevelt demanded of congress yesterday adequate federal machinery for fighting soldiers and sailors to vote in next fall's United States elections and bluntly labelled a state's-rights vote plan "A fraud upon the American people." In unusually vehement language the president said "Our millions of fighting men do not have any lobby or pressure group on Capitol Hill to see that justice is done for them."

Japanese Capital Being Evacuated

By GEORGE WANG
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
Copyright, 1944, by British United Press
CHUNGKING, Jan. 27.—The Japanese ministry of the interior has ordered the evacuation of civilians and industries from Metropolitan Tokyo and Nagoya, according to information received here from Tokyo. The order, issued yesterday, was the first of its kind in the history of Japan and followed recent American air attacks on Paramushiro, northernmost Japanese base in the Kuriles. All industries of the cities would be required to move out and residential areas would be evacuated, according to a decision reached at a recent cabinet meeting, it was declared. The evacuation reportedly was ordered as a precaution to anticipated large-scale bombings of Japan proper.

A non-delivery strike plan for Alberta farmers is to be "fully explored" by the Alberta Farmers' Union, unless the Dominion government "reverses its present unfair attitude" towards Canadian farmers, it was decided Wednesday afternoon after a two-hour debate at the farmers' union convention in session at the Masonic Temple.

A second resolution passed Wednesday afternoon demands that the provincial and Dominion governments take "immediate" action to halt acquisition by Hutterites "of another acre of land" in southern Alberta, for the duration of the war and ten years after.

Provoking more discussion than any other resolution dealt with by the convention to date, the non-delivery strike plan was submitted originally as an agricultural strike move by the A.F.U. Spirit River local.

Resolution Amended After Debate

After prolonged discussion, the resolution was amended to call for investigation of a "non-delivery strike," rather than an "agricultural strike."

Roundly condemning the Dominion government's treatment of agriculture, the strike motion was moved by C. J. Stimpfle, Egremont.

As amended, it reads as follows: "Whereas agriculture is an all-important war industry, and

"Whereas at the present time it is singled out by the present Dominion government for exceptionally inferior treatment by the said government, requiring Canadian farmers to produce their products at prices far below parity, while allowing and providing all other industries, business and labor parity prices, plus in some cases exorbitant profits; and

"Whereas the Canadian farmers have repeatedly and loyally made representations to the Dominion

A.F.U. Urging Floor Prices Farm Produce

The Alberta Farmers' Union convention Thursday morning rejected a resolution urging that the Dominion government be asked to set a uniform farm wage scale for the western provinces; rejected another asking that farmers with a truck license be permitted to haul for other farmers without obtaining an additional license; and passed a third resolution, demanding that the Dominion government institute a system of floor prices for all farm produce as soon as possible.

The floor price resolution demands that such a price system shall bear a reasonable relationship "to the cost of farm machinery and all other goods which the farmer has to buy," together with "absolute protection against all debts until farm prices are at parity."

Such parity would be determined in the beginning by the prices prevailing in the United States, until a commission, set up with practical farmer representatives in the majority, shall establish Canadian parity.

Highlights of Throne Speech

OTTAWA, Jan. 27.—(CP)—(Advantage)—Following are excerpts of the speech from the throne, read today by the governor-general at the opening of the fifth session of the 19th parliament:

"To aid in ensuring a minimum of well-being to the children of the nation and to help gain for them a closer approach to equality of opportunity in the battle of life, you will be asked to approve a measure making provision for family allowances."

"You will be asked to approve the establishment of the following departments of government:

"A department of veterans' affairs... a department of reconstruction... a department of social welfare."

"To ensure stability for agriculture, you will be asked to make provision for a price floor for staple farm products."

"When suitable agreements are reached with the provinces, my ministers will be prepared to recommend measures to provide for federal assistance in a nationwide system of health insurance, and for a national scheme of contributory old age pensions on a more generous basis than at present in operation."

"The improved military situation does not... necessarily mean an early end to the war... until the Allied naval forces have grappled successfully with the main Japanese fleet there can be no assurance of an end to the war against Japan. Future operations will involve bitter fighting and heavy losses."

"A measure to extend the principle of mutual aid so as to provide for relief, as well as for materials of war, will be submitted for your approval."

"The arrangements required to clear the channels of trade and promote the flow of goods among all nations after the war are being explored with other countries."

Proposed Family Allowance Plan Aids Children

OTTAWA, Jan. 27.—(CP)—Introduction of a scheme of family allowances, proposed today in the Speech from the Throne at the opening of parliament, involves one of the most widespread social programs yet undertaken in Canada.

The speech defined the purpose of the family allowance legislation as "to aid in ensuring a minimum of well-being to the children of the nation and to help gain for them a closer approach to equality of opportunity in the battle of life."

Family allowances were proposed to the government, it was understood, in the majority report of the National War Labor Board following its inquiry early last year into labor relations and wage conditions in Canada.

TO BE TABLED

Text of the board's reports have not been made public but are to be tabled in the Commons tomorrow by Labor Minister Mitchell. It has been generally known that since the reports were received by the government.

government for a fair and just deal for their industry, and

"Whereas the said government have with equal persistence denied or ignored their many petitions for fair treatment, while as already stated invariably according to the requests of industry, business and labor for fair prices;

"Therefore be it resolved that this convention of the Alberta Farmers' Union explore fully the matter of organizing a non-delivery strike, unless in the meantime the stubborn resistance of the Dominion government, who have sole control over the prices we receive reverse their present unfair attitude towards Canadian farmers. We respectfully request that our farm prices be brought into line with those prevailing in the United States.

"We pass this resolution in the full knowledge that unless a final deal is given, we shall not receive it at the war's close, and unless we accept the responsibility of bettering our conditions, we are automatically saddling the many returned soldiers whom the government are already planning to place on the land with these unfair conditions."

"PHRASE" QUESTIONED

After Mr. Stimpfle had moved the resolution, a delegate rose and questioned the agricultural strike phrase. He moved the word "non-delivery" be replaced by "agricultural."

"A non-delivery strike makes no sense," one delegate complained. He said the only effective strike would be one of non-production.

Another delegate said, "We must realize that an agricultural strike would break most of us. What is the use of it if we have nothing to sell for six or eight months?" he asked. "What about the loss in quality?"

R. N. Russell, Athabasca delegate asked, "What do you think the small towns and cities live on? If the farmers stopped buying in these places (during a strike), it would make ghost towns of them."

"It is surprising how little we can live on. How do you think the Chinese people are living today?"

"If you are determined to help out the economic conditions of the country, it won't hurt you to eat a little less."

WAR NOT YET WON

"We must remember the war is not won. If we talk of non-production, we must leave it until the end of the war," another speaker said. "We can't let down our sons and sisters in the services at this time."

A speaker asked, "If we hold a non-delivery strike for a month or so, what would the city people do? What would they do if we did not continue our present purchases?"

While a non-production strike would be dangerous to the war effort, a non-delivery strike would be necessary to make the thing work."

"The first thing we should do is build up a reserve fund so the little individual could stay with us," a delegate said.

Another said, "If the farmer goes on strike, he can live off his place. But in two weeks the business men would ask the government to pay us what we want."

SEEK ONLY JUST PRICE

"All we want is a just price. Can we go ahead and say, 'We want $20 for bacon,' and if we don't get it, will we keep our hogs home?" It was asked.

"Are we numerically strong enough to strike? Even with the U.F.A. behind us, I think we'd fail. If we fail, this organization would be ruined," another delegate said in the debate.

The Willingdon line strike of 1934 was recalled by speakers, when low grading for grain and heavy dockage began a grain strike. One delegate, referring to that event, said, "We saw then we were tying up business. That strike reached right into the city of Edmonton."

The amendment changing the word "agriculture" to "non-delivery" was then passed.

Before the amended resolution received endorsement of the convention, one more delegate observed, "Talk does not get us anywhere. A strike to my mind is a post-war thing, and it is the only means of getting action. I'm afraid of the future. We should be positive in our minds that a strike is the only thing, and it is for the future."

DEMAND LAND BAN

Only other resolution passed at the Wednesday afternoon session, the one dealing with the Hutterites, demands that the provincial and Dominion governments take immediate action to halt acquisition of any more land in the south of the province by Hutterites.

Adoption of this resolution was moved by L. E. Pharis, of Magrath.

"The Hutterites are of no advantage to any community, and yet the government has given them privileges which we have been denied," it was stated by a delegate.

"The Hutterites were originally German, and they went to Russia, where it was too hot for them, so they came here," another speaker said. "They own some of the best land in the country, and they are no asset to it. Anyone here will be quite justified in voting for the resolution."

Text of the resolution, passed unanimously, is below:

"Whereas, Hutterites in Southern Alberta are from time to time, gobbling up by purchase, large areas of our best land, and

"Whereas, these Hutterites and

He also asked whether the government would "warn General Franco that continued occurrence of such breaches of neutrality will cause the Allies to deprive Spain of oil and other necessary supplies."

erment late last summer there has been frequent discussion by the cabinet on family allowances.

The board heard in evidence before it that large numbers of workers in the low wage groups with heavy responsibilities had not shared proportionately in the upward trend of wages under war conditions.

Arguments were presented that these workers were in greater need of assistance than any other type and as a result, it was understood, the majority report, signed by the chairman, Mr. Justice C. P. McTague, and Leon Lalonde of Montreal, employer representative, advanced two proposals.

NO EASING OF CONTROLS

One was that wartime wage restrictions should not apply to workers earning less than 50 cents an hour and that they should be free to bargain for higher rates. The second was the introduction of family allowances. In the recently-revised wage control order, based largely on the board's reports, there was no recommendation for easing of the controls on the power paid workers.

Earlier last year, Dr. Leonard C. Marsh reported on social security to the present income tax exemption of $108 a year allowed Canadian taxpayers.

In 1929, family allowances were discussed before a parliamentary committee and a number of illnesses were heard but the committee recommended further study before any action was taken. It also advised a clarification of the jurisdictional position of the dominion and provinces in such a plan.

Six Cargo Ships Sunk at Rabaul

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, Jan. 27. — Allied planes have struck Rabaul, last major defence bastion of the Japanese in the southwest Pacific, a heavy blow, sinking more than 27,500 tons of shipping and shooting down 24 more enemy planes, a communique announced today.

U.S. navy torpedo planes sank six Japanese ships and damaged three others Monday at Rabaul's Simpson Harbor while medium bombers attacked enemy bases in the Admiralty Islands, 370 miles northwest of Rabaul, in blows aimed at severing lines of supply to forward bases of Japan's defence line.

Allied losses were described as "extraordinarily light."

ALGIERS, Jan. 27. — Allied invasion forces breaking the first enemy counter-attack in force against their beachhead, repulsed elements of the crack Hermann Goering division southwest of Littoria, 35 miles below Rome, and pushed deeper into the German flank, it was announced today.

At least 120 Germans were killed in the futile counter-attack, which was launched by panzer Grenadier forces withdrawn from the main front to the south.

(Homer Bigart, correspondent with the invasion forces, said British troops destroyed three and possibly four German tanks and littered the battlefield with enemy dead in repulsing a strong German counter-attack against a crossroads hamlet, possibly the same engagement referred to in the Algiers dispatch.

SAY APRILIA EVACUATED

(A Swiss broadcast quoted a German report that the Nazi forces had evacuated Aprilia, 22 miles south of Rome.

American troops on the main front were reported to have made local advances against stiff opposition in the Cassino area, but there still was no confirmation that the Americans had crossed the Rapido river in force or had entered Cassino, main bastion of the Gustav line. A patrol two days ago reported the Germans had evacuated Cassino and taken up strong positions in the surrounding heights.

Battles Prove: Canucks in Italy Stronger, Harder, Tougher Than Foe

OTTAWA, Jan. 27. — (CP) — Canadian soldiers in Italy are stronger, harder, tougher and more determined than the enemy, Joseph W. G. Clark, chief of information for the armed forces, who recently returned from a lengthy visit overseas, said last night.

In a brief report of his visit prepared for delivery on the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation program "Headquarters Report," Mr. Clark said that he was in the Ortona district the day before the town was captured by the Canadians.

"You read, and heard over the radio, of the grim, hard, hand-to-hand fighting that led to the capture of Ortona," he said. "I was warned by Canadian staff officers that the Germans would resist to the last ditch—and they did."

"Your men beat them at their own game, and I am proud to tell you that while our losses have not been light, Ortona, and other key positions on the Adriatic side of the Italian front—places of great strategic importance—have been delivered into Allied hands through Canadian gallantry."

"Your men are brave—very brave."

The Canadians are well fed, healthy and strong, he added.

Mr. Clark said he visited R.C.A.F. stations where he met Canadians who day and night are smashing the enemy in his European stronghold.

"The fact must be better known that over 30 per cent. of the total aircrew strength of the Royal Air Force is Canadian."

Army Physician Is Awarded M.C.

OTTAWA, Jan. 27. — The Military Cross has been awarded to a 28-year-old Canadian army physician who cared for more than 150 casualties during a sleepless 48 hour vigil atop an Italian hill which was swept by enemy mortar and shell fire, it was announced here today by the National Defence Department.

He is Capt. Harold William Chestnut, Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps, of Winnipeg, Man., and Moosomin, Sask. son of Dr. William A. Chestnut of Moosomin, and a former member of the medical staff of the Winnipeg general hospital.

The broadcast first denied what it said were "Rumors circulating abroad" that prisoners would be sentenced shortly, then added:

"There was no information (at the Wilhelmstrasse) that this matter had reached a stage in which early action was expected, but it could not be denied that this matter was in a state of preparation. It was said."

The Germans last Dec. 23 broadcast a statement that Allied airmen held in Germany would be tried as war criminals, apparently in answer to the Kharkov trials of Germans charged with atrocities. LONDON, Jan. 27. — A Russian communique tonight reported the capture of Tosno, major German stronghold southeast of Leningrad, and eastern terminus of the railway to Estonia.

LONDON, Jan. 27. — The Red army announced triumphantly today that it had completed the liberation of Leningrad, lifting the 28-month siege of the old czarist capital in a smashing offensive which drove the Germans back from 38 to 62 miles beyond cannon range and freed more than 700 towns and villages.

"An assignment of historical importance has been achieved—the city of Leningrad is entirely freed of the enemy blockade and from the barbarous artillery shelling by the enemy," a special order of the day broadcast from Moscow proclaimed.

Gen. Leonid A. Govorov issued the order of the day—a striking departure from the custom usually followed by Premier Josef Stalin—hailing the troops of his army who achieved the complete liberation of Leningrad in 12 days of savage fighting.

SMASH ALL DEFENCES

The Russians, he said, "have broken through and overcome on all fronts at Leningrad the Germans heavily fortified defences echeloned far in depth and prepared a long time in advance, and have captured and destroyed the most important centres of resistance and enemy defence bases."

Leningrad saluted its emergence from the siege with 24 salvoes of 224 cannon, the booming of which was clearly audible here on both the old capital's radio and a relay of the broadcast by Moscow.

The order of the day followed Moscow dispatches reporting that the whole German defence line between Leningrad and Lake Ladoga was falling apart, and disconnected Nazi forces were left scrambling as best they could to fight their way out of a Soviet trap closing on some 250,000 troops.

Deny Recognition Of Jap Republic Given by Vatican

BERNE, Jan. 27. — (AP) — L'Osservatore Romano denied yesterday a report printed in the Nazi-controlled Italian press that the Vatican had recognized the new puppet Philippine republic set up by the Japanese, the Swiss telegraphic agency said yesterday. The semi-official Vatican newspaper added that the Holy See would not recognize any states or regimes resulting from war or hostilities before they were definitely recognized by peace treaties.

Disclose British Plane in Service For Three Years

LONDON, Jan. 27. — (CP) — Existence of a British bomber-recognition plane called the Albemarle was made public today, more than three years after it first went into production. It has been on the secret list longer than any other British aircraft.

The twin-engine mid-wing monoplane, designed during the Battle of Britain, has since been issued for carrying mail to Gibraltar, for transport work in Russia, and has been found ideal for towing gliders.

It was an Albemarle which first landed troops in Sicily. It has a maximum speed of more than 250 miles an hour at 10,500 feet, and a range of more than 1,800 miles. Its armored cabin carries a crew of five.

Fuehrer Orders Italo Line Held

NEW YORK, Jan. 27. — (CP) — German troops along the Gustav line in southern Italy "received a special message from Hitler himself two days ago saying that the Fuehrer orders that the Gustav line will be held at all cost since a successful defence would have important political repercussions," the BBC said yesterday quoting its front-line correspondent, Frank Gillard. CBS shortwave listening station recorded the broadcast.

Airmen's Families Leave For Britain

MONTREAL, Jan. 27. — (CP) — A party of 300 women and children, families of R.A.F. men formerly stationed in Canada left Montreal for New York last night, en route to England, where they will meet husbands and fathers who returned to Britain several months ago. Many British women who came to Canada during the last three years while their husbands trained at Canadian stations are taking back thoroughly "Canadianized" youngsters.

12 Branburgers from a pound of beef

All-Brand "Branburgers"

1 new 2 tablespoons salt 1 tablespoon pepper 1 cup catsup 1 cup ketchup 1 cup milk 1 pound ground beef

Beat egg slightly, add salt, pepper, onion, milk, parley, catsup and All-Brand. Let soak until most of moisture is taken up. Add beef and mix thoroughly. Shape into 12 patties. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) about 30 minutes. Broil about 30 minutes. Yield: 6 servings (12 2 1/2 inch patties).

P.S. The All-Brand in them helps prevent constipation due to lack of "bulk" in your diet. Try them today! All-Brand is made by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

Nazis Now Using Portable Forts In Cassino Area

NEAR CASSINO, Italy, Jan. 27

— (CP) — The Germans are using portable forts north of Cassino. Brought by rail from Germany to the Cassino area they were installed on the west bank of the Rapido river under direction of the Todt labor organization. Each accommodates between eight and 10 men. The forts are partly buried in the ground and their strength is such that they can only be reduced by a direct hit from a shell or bomb.

A.F.U. Urging Floor Prices Farm Produce

ities, according to terms of the resolution.

It is stated in the resolution that most farm products had ceilings placed on them at very low levels, as soon as the Wartime Prices and Trade Board came into operation, and it has been admitted by all responsible authorities that farmers have borne an undue share of the price controls, and that they have been prevented from getting good prices for their produce by ceiling prices imposed.

The farm wage resolution, submitted from an A.F.U. district convention at Bycroft, read: "Whereas the Dominion government has seen fit to regulate wages and salaries in all industries, excepting agriculture; and

"Whereas this exception is resulting in competitive bidding between farmers in districts for the available labor supply causing unstable labor conditions;

"Be it resolved that the Dominion government be petitioned to set a uniform farm wage to cover the western provinces."

ALMOST UNANIMOUS

After considerable discussion the resolution was rejected, by an almost unanimous vote.

"It is almost impossible to set farm wages. One district may get hauled out, another partly hauled out, and farmers there couldn't pay high wages," a delegate said. "The farmers' union should set wages in the various districts."

"If we let the government set prices, maybe they will set them like they did for oranges—where the price was set, and $1 a dozen now."

Another delegate, also opposing the resolution, said, "This resolution is entirely out of line. The farmers are not in a position to pay wages as other unions are."

"Farmers should have no quarrel with labor. If we are given a just price for the goods we have to sell, there is no reason why we could not or should not pay the right wages."

"Let us work with labor, to fight what we have to fight," a delegate commented.

"Another observed, 'Herr Adolf Hitler sets the price on farm labor in Germany. If we ask the government to set our wages here, we will get a fascist government.'

"What are we worrying about anyway?" a speaker asked. "We can't get labor for our farms when we try."

"If the government is to set wage prices, they would have to send field men out to determine district crop conditions. Who would pay the cost of these men?" a delegate asked.

This discussion terminated debate on the resolution, and it was lost on a show-of-hands vote.

TEXT OF MOTION

The farm truck resolution read, "Resolved that a farmer with a farm truck license be allowed to haul anything for another farmer, without an additional license."

One delegate said the resolution was asking too much. "If we ask for too much, we get nothing. If we ask for a little, we will get what we want," he observed.

Another speaker said, I don't agree with this resolution at all. We have said we should co-operate with labor. We solved this problem in our district by buying a truck on a co-operative basis."

The resolution received unanimous rejection.

Another resolution was carried, asking that the government color each grade of tractor fuel differently, for easier distinction of grades. It was stated the provincial government has already been approached on this matter, and has pointed out lack of fuel storage facilities makes this impossible.

Hugh Allen, chairman of the Alberta Livestock Co-Operative Association, gave an address and answered questions from the convention floor at the conclusion of Thursday morning sittings. He outlined the effect of the new hog subsidies, which went into effect last Monday.

Canadian Army Kiska Garrison Is Withdrawn

OTTAWA, Jan. 27. — (CP) —

Canadian units which, with United States forces, occupied Kiska in the Aleutian Islands five months ago, have been withdrawn, national defence headquarters announced today.

No explanation was given and the official announcement merely stated:

"The Department of National Defence announced today that all units of the Canadian force which participated in the occupation of Kiska now have returned to Canada."

It was assumed here that the Kiska garrison now is made up of a strong all-United States formation.

LIKELY REASON

One unofficial source believed the reason for the withdrawal was a decision to concentrate the Canadian army effort, for the time being, in Italy and Britain from where the European invasion is to be launched. Both these forces will presumably need a steady stream of replacements especially after the invasion begins whereas the Kiska garrison duty can more easily be taken care of by United States troops concentrated in that area.

While most of the Canadian units were largely made up of men called up for compulsory training and therefore not available for overseas service, presumably they could be detailed to strengthen various home defence groups, thus freeing general service men for overseas duty. Also it was learned that many of the draftees have since volunteered for general service.

The return of Canadian units to their bases in the Dominion started many weeks ago but the movement has been under censorship, restrictions until today.

New German Ban On Captives' Mail Includes Canada

OTTAWA, Jan. 27. — (CP) — A post office department spokesman said last night that the external affairs department has "in hand" a notification from German authorities that they will confiscate mail for Canadian prisoners of war when the envelopes bear patriotic slogans.

(Postmaster-general Frank Walker disclosed at Washington Tuesday that the United States state department is protesting similar notification from German authorities on the ground that it interferes with the delivery of mail to American prisoners.)

The spokesman said that Canadian postal authorities some time ago used the telegraphic signal for "V" slogans on envelopes. Since then slogans such as "V for Victory," and "Win the War" have been used by the United States, and Canada has used similar ones.

Canadian Soldiers Disappointed When Nippos Quit Kiska

MONTREAL, Jan. 27. — (CP) — Canadian soldiers were disappointed last August when they landed on Kiska and found that the Japs had already moved out of the Aleutian Islands. Sgt. Maj. Albert Cadotte of the Regiment de Hull, said yesterday in an interview.

Cadotte, who returned to his home here a short while ago, said that the Canadians, who participated with American troops in the landing, were expecting a tough battle with the Japs but walked ashore unopposed.

The landings climaxed rigorous months of training on the Western Canadian coast and on two islands in the Aleutians group, Cadotte revealed.

Bracken Rink Loses by 11-10

QUEBEC, Jan. 27. — (CP) — John Bracken, leader of the Progressive Conservative party, lost an extra-end match in first round play Wednesday in the four-day International curling bonspiel for the Governor General trophy.

Mr. Bracken skipped a Winnipeg rink and was defeated 11-10 by R. C. Cream's Quebec Victoria rink. The westerners forged from behind and forced the match into an extra end before yielding.

Saluting the Flag

The Edmonton public school board has decided that its regulation compelling pupils to salute the flag must stand. There is no use quarrelling with this decision because it is doubtless a considered conclusion and it is to be assumed that the board had reasons for maintaining its view.

Nevertheless, while peculiar circumstances may render this stand advisable, (although they are not apparent), it is not out of place to reiterate the assertion that the compulsory formalities of patriotism have of themselves very little positive bearing on the inculcation of real patriotism.

If young people do not render respect to our national institutions and symbols through an innate veneration for them, there is precious little use compelling them to go through the motions. It will appear to many people that the business of the schools is to teach boys and girls to love Canada. Young folk who love Canada need not be forced to salute her flag.

Pay for Wounded Men

It is elementary fairness that a sick or injured soldier, sailor or airman should get full service pay and allowances until he is discharged or pensioned. Why such provision was not made from the beginning is a mystery only explainable on the supposition that some official was so obsessed by precedent or the urge to save money that he could not see the simple facts of life.

Now that the matter has been brought to his attention, the Minister of Pensions would be well advised to go over the regulations and see if there are other respects in which these do not conform to reason and fair play. It is entirely to the credit of the Minister that he recognizes the injustice of penalizing a sick or injured serviceman by cutting down his pay. In correcting that cruel absurdity it is to be supposed he will make the amended ruling retroactive and see that those who have suffered the penalty in the past will be compensated.

The Edmonton branch of the Canadian Legion is to be commended for having brought this gross unfairness to attention.

The Police Force

Not many men, it seems, in and around Edmonton want to be policemen; at least not many who can measure up to the physical and other requirements. So Police Chief Jennings reports to the city council. Reasons cited for not filling seven vacancies on the force are that the appointments would be only temporary, and that wages higher than police pay are now offered in other lines of employment. Fore-sighted men, it is quite understandable, do not find enlistment in the force attractive under these conditions.

But Edmonton is a growing city. It will need more policemen in the future than it has ever needed in the past. That is certain enough to warrant filling the seven present vacancies on the force with men appointed permanently. When men now on leave for military service return, they also will be needed to bring the force up to the strength it will have to cope with the conditions created by a heavily increased population; and will of course hold their seniority rating as though they had never been absent from duty.

It is not therefore necessary to keep the city under-policed in order to protect the rights of the policemen who are now in the armed forces.

The Case of Bolivia

The new Bolivian regime seems to have made a hundred percent failure of its attempt to persuade the Allied governments that it has an anti-Axis complexion, or that it is even neutral. None of them has given it recognition, while Washington said flatly the new junta is linked with a "general subversive movement" to undermine the Allied cause in this hemisphere. Only the revolution-born cabinet of Argentina gave countenance to its duplicate at La Paz—and three days later discounted the certificate of character by itself breaking off relations with Berlin and Tokyo.

The only matter of immediate practical importance in the case of Bolivia is that it is now the main source from which the Allies get the small amount of tin they are able to obtain. The chagrined government might retaliate by cutting off this supply. But as tin cannot be delivered to Germany or Japan, refusal to sell to the Allies would involve closing down the mines for lack of a market. In which case the hungry miners would probably start a counter-revolution and oust the Quislings. Even if they happen to be Nazis or Fascists or Japanese, the tin-diggers have to eat, and would likely cause ructions if they found the cabal standing between them and the dinner table. Bolivia, it can be surmised, will therefore go on supplying the Allies with tin, however vengeful its unrecognized ministry may feel.

The Atlantic Charter

Mr. Anthony Eden told the House of Commons that Britain will not recognize any changes in Poland's pre-war boundaries unless these are made with the free consent of the Polish Government. That sounds like a reproof to Russia, which has declared its intention to keep the eastern half of pre-war Poland. But it is not, unless it be a reproof to be reminded of a freely accepted obligation. The Atlantic Charter has something to say about territorial changes effected by force or without consent, and all Mr. Eden did was to translate into specific language the general terms of that document.

Clause one of the Charter says the signatory countries "Seek no aggrandizement, territorial or other". Clause two declares "They desire to see no territorial changes that do not accord with the freely expressed wishes of the people concerned". And Clause three states "They wish to see sovereign rights and self-government restored to those who have been forcibly deprived of them".

Marshal Stalin subsequently endorsed these and all the principles of the Atlantic Charter, thereby binding Russia to respect and fulfill the obligations laid down. Russia is thus committed to these declarations regarding territorial changes as definitely as are the United States, Great Britain, and all the other Allied nations which have given their formal approval to the Charter.

What Mr. Eden did, and all he did, was to state how these provisions apply in the case of Poland. It is not even implied that Russia means to ignore them, and there has been no suggestion to that effect from Moscow. On the contrary, the recent statement clarifying Russian aims in Poland definitely indicated the intention to seek Polish agreement. Moscow did of course raise the quite different question as to the competence of the Polish Government-in-exile to represent the Polish people in making such an agreement.

In so far as this direct statement carries reproof or warning it applies equally to Russia and to the Polish Government-in-exile. If the former is reminded of its obligations, the latter is also reminded that "the wishes of the people concerned" must be properly represented in the making of any bargain. Obviously Mr. Eden's object is to exert what pressure a mutual friend can exert on both parties to arrange such procedure as will accord with the terms of the Atlantic Charter—to which both Russia and the Polish Government-in-exile have pledged their adherence.

Unofficial reports are that Goering's Luftwaffe is facing a shortage of fighter planes and already experiencing a shortage of pilots. He won't get much comfort from the news that Allied plane production is going up steadily, nor that the training schools in Canada have turned out 50,000 fully trained airmen and are still going strong.

Kharkov's Desolation A Terrible Indictment of Huns

Native German Brutality, Not Nazi System, Held Responsible

By the Special Correspondent in Kharkov of The London Times

Immediately after the stern judgment of a Russian military tribunal the four accused were executed in Kharkov market place and a grimly satisfied crowd circled round the dangling bodies. From the market place, dominated by the four gibbets within a square of Red Army Tommy-guns, I climbed a long sweeping terrace, calling at several crowded churches, for by no means all Kharkovites attended the execution—through the elder parts of the city to the magnificently laid out civic centre on the crest of a bluff overlooking the frozen Leman river. Not for one moment were one's eyes spared the spectacle of desolate ruin. Though the snow had been trampled from the streets, it lay thinly on piles of rubble, dangling wires, and fantastically looped pipes, while gaping windows were half-barred with irregular icicles.

Old posters announcing in German gothic script performances of Verdi's and Puccini's operas flap-

ped from smoke stained walls, across many of which was scrawled a notice that three months ago the building had been inspected for unexploded mines. Here and there gangs of men were prodding at the bottom of trenches among the city's fouled water mains. Few of the larger buildings had escaped the German demolition squads, and of dwelling houses, only one-third have been officially classified as habitable. Life in Kharkov today is just emerging from a state as primitive as that in the remotest Russian village. Indeed, it is doubtful whether there are many villages where it is necessary to walk so far for water.

The Kharkov trial cannot be explained unless it is set against the background of ruined lives and buildings, of the terror of being outlawed and pursued, and the deadly moral corruption that prevails from German occupation. And because the people of Kharkov know that the harm done to them was the work of ordinary Germans it gave them satisfaction to see that three of the men brought to justice were from the common run of German soldiers. For the three German prisoners whom the Russians put on trial were representative of the common man of Germany—the "little man" on whose shoulders Hitler rose to power.

When I talked with Kharkov citizens during and after the trial I found nothing but contempt for the pleas of the accused that they were the victims of the Nazi system. Harsh as the German law was against the Russians in occupied Kharkov, its interpretation by the average German added yet further to their misery: it was the behavior of the ordinary German in billets and public places, and in manipulations on the market, that exasperated the better elements of the population. Except for cheap cosmetics and stale English cigarettes, presumably captured long ago, the Germans imported nothing into Kharkov which could meet the current needs of the inhabitants. One result of this was the setting up of hundreds of small workshops where with bits of salvaged machinery, the Russians started manufacturing essential goods. Another was the extraordinary rouble inflation as the constantly diminishing amount of old merchandise passed from hand to hand. Those who took advantage of the situation made paper fortunes almost overnight and lost them as speedily in speculation. The Germans appear deliberately to have encouraged the growth of corruption and ignorance. What newspapers they allowed to be published were printed in the Ukrainian language of Galicia, which the mainly Russian population of Kharkov finds difficult to read. With the libraries closed and all text books destroyed, the population had few means of spending their evenings at home after the early curfew in an intelligent manner. An extraordinary number of small cabarets sprang up. The problems of moral recuperation facing the authorities today are no less difficult than those involved in restoring to Kharkov its economic raison d'être as a great industrial city. Not every schoolboy will continue to respect the school-master he has seen selling matches in the street for two years. In that time the youth can forget the taste for good music and literature that the Soviet regime strove to instill. Civic pride and personal hygiene are qualities hard to foster at a time when everywhere the eye is cast at sees shabby ruin; when children have to stagger miles through ice-coated streets under the burden of a yoke with swinging buckets.

The authorities are proceeding cautiously. Reprisals against those whose behaviour was unworthy under the Germans are rare. Only those who declared themselves publicly for the enemy are condemned to prison, and death is reserved for those who betrayed through their death Public opinion, it is expected, will see to it that the guilty suffer. Meanwhile, re-education is proceeding. Books have been rushed to the city. A famous theatre company is opening a season this week; a series of public lectures on national and international events of the past two years has been begun, and in churches I heard the priests were talking sternly and paternally to their congregations on the moral evil inherent in Fascism.

The trial itself was an important phase in the educational process. It not only satisfied a burning desire for justice in its sternest form, but revealed to the large crowds that passed the trial, the market place—the centre of German inspired speculation and corruption—and to the country people, who for three days after the executions saw the swinging bodies, the vulnerability of the enemy and the fundamental weakness in the Fascist character. Nothing heightened popular contempt for the accused so much as the apathy of the priests, whose duty should be spared to take part in the rebuilding of Germany.

When the vehicles on which the condemned men stood were moved away causing their bodies to drop slowly and initiating the strangling process, there went up from the great crowd a hoarse, low growl of deep satisfaction. There were some who showed their scorn of the dying men by adding whistles to the sound of their gasps. Others applauded. The crowd was not in a lynching mood, for the majesty of the law deeply impressed them; but for the second time in two years there was joy in Kharkov.

Every plan is now agreed. The timing is now agreed on and in due course the decisions of Teheran will be unrolled on the field of battle. —British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

Thompson Opposes National Service Act

Calls It Cumbersome and Dubious in Effect and Operation

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

In the U.S. National Service Act I cannot help but feel that we are going the longest way 'round to find the most dubious way home.

If the Act is principally to eliminate strikes, why not just eliminate them by statute, in any industries essential to war production for the duration of hostilities? That would involve the repeal of the Smith-Connally bill, wisely vetoed by the President, who correctly predicted that it would make the strike threat the normal way of opening wage disputes.

Then take the advice of John P. Frey of the metal trades department of the A.F. of L., and streamline into a single agency the 25 government divisions that are now concerned with the regulation of wages and conditions of employment.

And then fix formulas for the regulation in equity of wages in relation to prices. Without such reforms a National Service Act won't prevent strikes. We will simply have launched an undertaking requiring an immense bureaucracy, to accomplish something that can be done much more directly.

If the aim of the Act is to make it possible to shift workers from non-essential industries into war work, and from one part of the country to another, the National Service Act will prove the most cumbersome manner of doing it, in a country as large as ours. Why not apply more private enterprise and imagination to the problem?

There is not a single regular radio program, on a nation-wide hook-up telling workers exactly where they are needed, for what work and at what wages. Why don't the National Association of Manufacturers, the Chamber of Commerce, the C.I.O. and the A.F. of L. undertake such a program together, making it a weekly or daily feature? Why not have the government underwrite greatly reduced transportation costs on the railroads for workers who will pick up and move?

Mr. Stimson's argument that the soldiers demand a national service act to establish equality of conditions, does not get down to essentials. Mr. Stimson is right that the breach between soldiers and civilians is growing, and could produce a menacing social situation. But how much is the army doing to educate the soldiers in the essential facts about the American economy?

It is impossible not to have a double standard for soldiers and civilians. If civilians are to live in peace, the army must be able to live in peace.

Canada's mutual aid has only begun arriving in volume, though Canadian war goods previously reached Australia on British consignments. Far greater in bulk have been shipments of American lend-lease, which has been arriving in Australia and New Zealand since September, 1941. It is arriving at the world of the soldier, we must abandon the private enterprise system and establish military socialism. Our civilian world is based on competition for profit. For the workers competition takes the form of collective bargaining for their share in what is produced. The system involves constant adjustment between the claims of labor, capital, farmers, and professionals, for equity.

The soldier lives in a totally different society. Obedience and discipline are compulsory; complete economic equality is established; and service and good comrades are the impetus. The army, as a social order, is military socialism.

The soldier feels that Americans are not sacrificing enough, but he is not clearly told that the reason is the American production miracle, which has confounded all expectations. Just after Pearl Harbor we were told that we would have to reduce our living standards to the level of the 1933 depression, because there wouldn't be enough consumers' goods. Thirteen months later the president warned that consumers' goods would be reduced by 25 per cent, that inventories were falling and we would have to suffer.

We all got ready cheerfully to sacrifice. But this darned economy just won't let us. With sixty per cent of all production going to the armed forces and with every army and navy demand met, the American system last year produced over ninety billion dollars worth of consumers' goods. So apart from doing without a few durable goods and such essential war materials as gasoline, there just aren't any shortages and the only way we could make ourselves suffer would be by decreasing production.

The true situation, of course, is obscured when mutual aid is given in terms of money. Australian Finance Minister J. B. Crifley said: "There is no adequate measuring stick to compare the contributions made by each country. Many forms of aid do not lend themselves to expression in money values, and it would be contrary to the spirit of lend-lease that a money comparison should be made." Australian soldiers in the Pacific are using American and Canadian equipment, as well as Australian, to defend not only Australia but Canada and the United States as well. This applies to New Zealand. Senator R. O. Brewster, the Main Republican, writing in Collier's Dec. 25, 1943, made a money comparison. His remark that reverse lend-lease is a fiction in many places, did less than justice to Australia and New Zealand.

In Canadian dollars, lend-lease and reciprocal aid accounts work out in the following terms:

Australia
To June 30, Received Provided 1943 $18,000,000 210,000,000
Estimate, 1943-4 450,000,000 350,000,000
New Zealand
To June 30, Received Provided
1943 $3,600,000 24,500,000
Estimate, 1943-4 140,000,000 70,000,000

One point agitating Australians and New Zealanders is what precise commitments are involved for them after the war as lend-lease recipients now. What does Clause 7 of the Lend-Lease Agreement mean? As Roosevelt said recently, it means "All United Nations receiving aid undertake that they will join the United States in working toward some economic conditions which are the prerequisite to a secure peace." Does this mean that Australian and New Zealand high protectionism must end? This may easily become one of the most furious controversies of domestic politics. More than protectionism is involved. Will Australia be able to retain and utilize its new industrial capacity after the war? As defence policy, most Australians believe their country will retain, regardless of the economics of it, most of the main phases of its defence industries.

Australians are interested to know how it is Canada has been able to pay its way in obtaining U.S. war supplies. Canada has paid "cash on the barrelhead" for everything obtained in the U.S.A. The simple explanation interests Australians. It is that Canada is within the dollar area, has built up through the years commercial relations with the United States sufficient to bear the strain of enormous expansion in war items. Lend-lease and mutual aid, Australians begin to see, is the bridge between the surpluses of the dollar area and the needs of the sterling area, and they are part of the sterling area. U.S. lend-lease and Canadian mutual aid will in future tend to pull Australia and New Zealand into the dollar area. While the mutual aid master agreement has not been signed, it provides for future collaboration in rebuilding a world system of trade. Learning from the U.S. case, Canada is defining precisely its rights in future in respect to goods supplied now.

Final answers on mutual aid in war cannot be given until the shape of mutual aid in the future peace is known. Australia is prepared, as is New Zealand, to go along the road of collaboration. Allowing that Australia's first responsibility is to herself, Mr. Chifley said: "The mutual aid agreement certainly does not envisage a restoration of the status quo as it existed before the war. It provides for positive action by all the countries designed to bring about a general raising of living standards throughout the world."

Blaming Britain for Famine
From the Chicago Daily News
We have just received from Sir J. J. Singh, president of the India League of America, what purports to be a report on the famine in India. The Government of India is to blame, of course, or why would the India League of America, whatever that is, be making a report? There's no propaganda percentage in assigning anything but a political cause to a natural disaster.
No Right
MINNEAPOLIS STAR JOURNAL
Army and navy insignia, buttons, chevrons, even marksmanship badges are glittering these days in the most unexpected places—fastened, for instance, not on soldiers' or sailors' uniforms, but on civilian lapels, ladies' hats, girls' sweaters.
Many mothers, wives, sweethearts and friends of the service men whose insignia they so proudly wear are unaware that they are violating any law.

Blaming Britain for Famine

However, in the report we find a curious statement: "The food situation in India has gradually deteriorated since 1930. Between 1930 and 1940 the population of India increased nearly 14.5 per cent (about 50,000,000) while the total acreage under food grains decreased—even though slightly from 197,847,000 to 197,451,000 acres."

Just what can a Government do about the geometrical increase of population versus the arithmetical increase of production—Malthus' old theorem—when it actually happens? We have never seen an answer to that question.
Possibly the British Government in India could be blamed for the present famine to the extent that its sewage construction, its betterments of medicine and other measures of that sort have so tempered the struggle for existence that the Indian birth rate is no longer so nearly offset by a high death rate and a low expectancy of life as it once was. But who in the Western world would be willing to give tongue to a criticism of that sort? And anyhow famines in the teeming East are an old story long antedating the coming of the Englishman to India. No ruling power of India, now or ever, or no ruling power in any Oriental land, has or ever would be interfering with ancestral customs that favor extremely high birth rates.

JUNIOR hockey in Edmonton has been particularly free from scenes even approaching that such as witnessed at 119 Street rink in the third period of the game between H.M.C.S. Nonsuch and Canadian Athletic Club on Wednesday night.

It was unfortunate though that a good exhibition—for last night's league fixture was just that—up to the time of the fracas—had to be spoiled by the action of a single player who today must feel decidedly sick about the whole affair himself.

Everybody has his own particular weakness. And Jack Ingram, a really good scout otherwise, appears never to have acquired the knack of curbing a fiery temper, with the almost inevitable result happening when nerves are possibly a bit frayed from the tough going.

Nevertheless, a deliberate attack on an opposing player such as made by the Navy defenceman last night has no place in hockey, or in any game for that matter, for it might easily result in serious injury to the player directly concerned or to others in any general mixup which might immediately follow.

CAVALLI COMES THROUGH
THERE would appear to be no doubt but that Ingram supplied the spark for the flare-up when he charged across the ice from his own defence area and cross-checked Jim Fleming. But Jerry Dea lost no time in pitching punches and possibly may have extended what might otherwise have been a localized proposition.

There were no penalties in the first period and, in fact, up until the boys all teed off for keeps in the final chapter, the game had been just about the cleanest of the season and it contained very liberal portions of good hockey.

Navy got in more shots on Alex Cavalli in the first and third periods—23 to be exact—than the Canadian goalie had seen since Santa Claus came to town. Bill Lancaster, net-minder for the Alberta champs last winter, had just five pucks to toss out to Cavalli's 13 in the initial 20 minutes, but the middle session was entirely different.

Bill gave the smartest exhibition of goalkeeping of the year in that stanza. He blocked 18 sure-fire shots right on the beam, but the 19th glanced off a team mate's skate for the first goal of the game. There were only two serious thrusts at the Canuck citadel in the same period. Sixteen pucks were aimed at Lancaster and 10 at Cavalli in the last semester.

Saturday night's scheduled affair for the junior league is Edmonton Athletic Club versus H.M.C.S. Nonsuch. The Canadians will play in Lloydminster that night against Saskatoon Lions, in the first inter-provincial junior test of the season.

League Leaders Up 8 Points Over Nonsuch; General Melee in Final Period

Canadians Shut Out Navy Juniors 6-0

Canucks Now Unbeaten Six Games in Row

By HAL DEAN

Sports Editor, Edmonton Bulletin

WITH goalie Alex Cavalli earning a well-deserved shutout, Canadian Athletic Club's junior pucksters ran their success string to six straight by blanking H.M.C.S. Nonsuch 6-0 in Wednesday night's hockey league game at 119 Street rink. Canucks now hold an eight point lead over the second place Sailors.

Held out by Bill Lancaster for just over 30 minutes, Canadians went one up in the closing seconds of the middle frame and then ran in five goals in the third. The game was marred by a general melee precipitated by the cross-check attack of Navy's Jack Ingram on Jim Fleming late in the final period.

Most of the players took an active part in the ensuing battle, even those from the players' boxes eventually reaching the scene of hostilities. Many fans including Navy men also hopped the boards for closer inspection.

As usual the officials had the final say and Referees Bill Runge and Harold Wismer sent four to the penalty box. Ingram was given a 10-minute stretch for "deliberately injuring another player" and a 5-minute major for fighting. Jim Fleming, Jerry Dea and Ivan Krook drew down five minutes each.

In addition all who left the players' boxes were awarded match penalties and as a result the teams finished the remaining four minutes with four-a-side, the others all being out of circulation.

Ken Cox, leading scorer in the league contributed three of the goals, while Jim Fleming was credited with two, the other going to Cyril Thomas. The latter's counter along with Cox's third came after peace was restored, the Canadians being up 4-0 when the flare-up occurred.

Navy out-shot the Canadians 13-5 in the opening period, but the Canucks passed up several good chances either by wide shooting or failing to get the puck away after working in close to the goal.

Canadians held a big edge in combination, with both the Cox and Slugg lines participating. The stick work of Cyril Thomas was especially brilliant.

Fleming, Cox and Christenson swept right in on Lancaster early in the period, but the Navy goalie blocked Fleming's shot. R. Hanrahan appeared to have Cavalli beaten once, but the Canadian goalie not only saved the close-in shot, but got Alex Boyko's drive from the rebound as well.

Arnold Armstrong on a smart play with Harvey Green was foiled by Lancaster. Bus Younger almost scored when Dea passed out from behind the net and Younger got in another hard one just as the whistle went.

The puck was in Navy territory for almost all of the middle session and Cavalli handled only two shots as against 19 for Lancaster. The latter at one stage saved successive shots from a few feet out by Jim Rypien, Thomas, and Jim Slugg. He also picked off a low drive from Armstrong, but his best save was when he blocked Bob Causgrove after the full defenceman had soloed the full length of the ice.

Lancaster had tough luck on the one goal which got past him. Fleming's shot came from left wing at 19:04 and the puck glanced in off Sammy Samson's skate, as the latter was lying on the ice.

Canadians also had the margin in the last period and they fired 16 ticketed shots at Lancaster, as against the 10 Cavalli handled.

Harvey Green set up the first goal of the period at 2:41 and Cox finished off the play nicely. Navy never had a shot at the Canadian goal for over six minutes but then turned on the heat for a while.

"Christy" Christenson passed to Ken Cox for the third goal of the game at 11:02 and Jim Rypien relayed to Fleming for the fourth at 15:35, exactly 10 seconds before the fight started.

In the closing minutes Canadians completely dominated the play, Cox getting his third goal at 16:45 and Thomas the sixth of the night at 17:55 with the teams both short two men.

Sports . . . Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—(AP)—Don't laugh at that saddle shoe Susie who's trying manfully to lug your golf clubs around the course, mister. In another five years you may be taking lessons from her. . . . That's the opinion of George Corcoran, the Greensboro, N.C., golf pro who first proposed a feminine P.G.A. . . . Caddies always have grown up to become pros, George explains, and the gals who have taken up caddy the last year or two are no different. . . . In fact, they're better prospects because girls naturally have better rhythm and are keener students.

"They draw more accurate mental pictures and as a result develop better swings. They don't try to use brute strength like a man," says George. . . . Okay, they're copy cats, if that will soothe your masculine vanity, but wasn't it Bobby Jones who called Joyce Wethered the best golfer, man or woman, he ever had seen?

Let's call names. The girls shouldn't have any trouble finding the 25 stars that Betty Hicks thinks will be needed to start a women's P.G.A. after the war. . . . Besides Miss Hicks, Patty Berg, Helen Dettweiler and other well-known players, Corcoran names such expert golf teachers as Helen McDonald of Chicago, who "has taught a lot of big shots though they probably wouldn't admit it," Elizabeth Gordon of Providence, R.I., Virginia Pepp of St. Louis, Virginia Hayes of Kalamazoo, Mich., and Helen B. Schlemmer, author of a book on group golf instruction.

One-minute sports page. When asked to help New York's war bond hockey show, Boston's tough trader, Art Ross, gave goalie Bert Gardiner permission to play and added "the expenses are on me."

Jack on Friday

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—(AP)—The season's hottest fight comes off in Madison Square Garden Friday night.

This is a clambake bringing together swarmin' Sammy Angott and Beau the Jumping Jack, a couple of world lightweight champions of parts. The Jumping Jack is boss-man in New York and Sammy is the champ in the National Boxing Association's territory.

Swarmin' Sammy and the Jumping Jack will mash each other's noses for 10 rounds this time. And when the shooting stops the boys will be cutting up the big end of a $50,000 or $60,000 house.

As far as titles are concerned, neither one will "get hurt." This is one of those non-title things.

Puck Tilt Set For N.Y. Sunday

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—The United States treasury has lined up Canadian army men for an international hockey game in Madison Square Garden, New York, Sunday night, as a feature of the $14,000,000 United States Fourth War Loan campaign.

The Canadians will meet an American team including some American servicemen. The teams are headed by former National Hockey League stars.

Lineups of the teams have not yet been completed but it is expected the Canadian team will include Neil Colville, Norman Barnes and Frank Boucher, nephew of the New York Rangers coach, all of whom are R.C.A.F. members, and Alex Shibley and Joe Cooper of the Army.

A tentative lineup for the American team includes Bert Gardiner, loaned for the occasion by Boston Bruins, Bill and Bun Cook, Frank Boucher, Murray Murdoch, Art Coulter, John Mariucci, Manny Colow, Alex Motter and Frank Brimsek.

East-West Football Clash Likely Out for Duration

By CHARLIE EDWARDS

TORONTO, Jan. 27.—(CP)—Football fans hope the good burghers of Hamilton take good care of the Grey Cup until after the war because it seems certain the old mug will stay in that city until the armed forces clean up more pressing business.

The headquarters order barring Army-Air Force participation in any championship sport and the Navy's decision to permit its members no competition beyond provincial boundaries almost certainly suspends the East-West football final for the duration.

Only three senior football teams operated in the West last autumn and all three depended almost entirely on service personnel. They won't be able to collect enough football material to make a rug this year.

In the Quebec Union the three services were represented along with McGill University and Verdun's civilian grads. They could continue to operate without Air Force and Army. Only team definitely ruled out of the Ontario Union is Toronto R.C.A.F. Hurricanes but Toronto Navy will be able to play only within the Union.

The other four O.R.F.U. clubs—Hamilton Wildcats, Toronto Indians, Toronto Balmy Beach and Ottawa Combines—were so liberally studied with Army and Air Force players they will be hard hit. Ottawa was almost entirely composed of servicemen without whom it is unlikely the Combines will be able to operate.

Toronto could probably field one, maybe two, fairly strong teams. Hamilton could dig up a passable contender. Maybe senior football in Canada this year will be confined to one interprovincial circuit with Hamilton-Toronto-Montreal teams.

The barring of the dominion championship Patricia Bay R.C.A.F. Gremlins from the interprovincial basketball competition they raced through so easily last Spring presents a new problem. The Canadian Basketball Association has ruled United States service teams stationed in Edmonton will be eligible for the play-offs. It is claimed the U.S. Engineers of the Edmonton City League are outstanding challengers for the Canadian title. But it doesn't seem fair that Canadian service teams should be barred from competing for their own national title which might thus be thrust with little contest into the laps of representatives of another nation, also comprising service personnel.

That, friends, is a problem for the C.B.A. as well as defence headquarters to consider.

SASKATOON, Jan. 27.—(CP)—First round matches in two primary, two secondary, and the visitors' event held the spotlight in the Saskatoon bonspiel Wednesday as play proceeded with eight draws and 122 games on ideal ice.

Biggest upset in the Hudson's Bay grand challenge, was when J. Morrow, Watrous, competing in the bonspiel for the first time, defeated E. C. Loughbridge, Unity, the 1943 grand challenge winner, 10-8. Six extra end matches were reported during the day.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 27.—Little St. Joseph's College of Philadelphia has an excellent basketball team this season, as usual, even though it has five freshmen on the squad. St. Joe recently invaded the hallowed halls of the east's Ivy League and knocked off Penn and Princeton without much trouble. Last Saturday, the Saints topped high-scoring Rhode Island State for their eighth straight victory. Remarkably, it's an all-civilian squad.

At Tuesday night's Montgomery-Williams fight, Jimmy Grippio, the "mad magician" who manages Mello Bellina, was at the ringside—but feeling very glum. Billy Murry, a lightweight of Bellaire, Ohio, who showed great promise before he entered the service 15 months ago, was shot down and killed three weeks ago in the Mediterranean area. He was tail-gunner in a plane. Billy had won 61 of 63 professional bouts.

The Phillies always are looking for something new. They changed their names from the Phillies to the Phils—and back to the Phillies last season. Now they want some suitable emblem for their uniforms. Bob Carpenter, their young president, is offering a $100 war bond to the fan offering the best suggestion. Young Bob probably would give many bonds for a couple of winning ball players.

Followers of the Athletics were thunderstruck when Connie Mack sold three ball players to the Baltimore Orioles. But Connie Mack explained the players he sold never were major leaguers—and never would be. He still has 30 potential performers for the 1944 season. What are the A's prospects this year? Connie makes no predictions, but he is certain that the eight teams in the American league will be more evenly matched than ever before.

Lew Tendler, the Philadelphia tavern proprietor who gave Benny Leonard the two greatest and most profitable fights in lightweight history, will celebrate his 25th wedding anniversary on Friday. He has three sons—one in the army—and has two grandchildren. Tendler spends more than half of his time talking boxing on programs at service camps.

Bud Holland, former all-American football player at Cornell, is living the quiet life at nearby Chester, Pa., where he is personnel director of the Sun Shipbuilding and Drydock company. Meanwhile, William (Cy) Morgan, veteran minor league manager and Phillies' scout, is in an Allenstown, Pa., hospital suffering from a kidney ailment and appendicitis. Morgan at one time was an outfielder for Williamsport and Harrisburg in the old New York-Penn circuit.

Harry Garsh, who managed Bruce Flowers, Frankie Genaro, Sol Seaman, etc., in the old days, believes he has come upon his greatest fighter, an 18-year-old negro of Washington, D.C.—Aaron Perry—a lightweight who has won his first 11 bouts, registering seven kayos en route.

Currie Cagers are Hoping To Play Engineers Again

By P.T.E. TOM FOLEY
Public Relations Correspondent

CALGARY, Jan. 27.—It is expected that sometime within the next few weeks the Edmonton U.S. Army Engineers will make a trip to Calgary to play the Currie Barracks hoop squad in an exhibition game, whereupon a gentleman named "Long John" Gullekson will be a very marked man.

The Engineers hung a 49-31 defeat on the Currie hoopers in the Capital city last week, which is an 18 point trimming, while Mr. Gullekson scored exactly 19 points for the U.S. outfit. It is therefore obvious that stopping Gullekson would make quite a difference in the Engineers' scoring total.

Stopping "Lawng Jawn" is liable to prove a task however. A few years ago he fondled basketballs that were the property of the University of Minnesota, where they take their basketball pretty seriously. In fact stopping the Engineers is going to be quite a task—they've been undefeated in a tough Edmonton league so far this year, and that league includes the Yanks that frounce the Calgary Yanks here last week.

Pte. Casey Douglas, the Currie coach states that his ball club were just "plain stagestruck" when that game started, and were down 14-2 at the end of the first quarter. He also says that these Edmonton Engineers have a whale of a ball team, and that his Currie squad could use competition against a club like that a lot more often. He also says that the Curries can play better ball than they did against the Engineers.

HERE AND THERE

A draft of men arrived from Manitoba the other day, and since Manitoba is a province where hockey is one of the leading pastimes, you could see Capt. Vic Marsh, manager of Currie's garrison puck squad, watching the boys as they pulled into camp. . . he spied a couple carrying skates and they were on the garrison club with no questions asked. . . he marched them over to coach Norm Pridham and announced the new "stars". . . "Where'd they play?" asked Pridham. . . "Manitoba!" replied Marsh, and Mr. Pridham, who had exactly eight names on his roster at the time also asked no question.

Alex Kaleta missed the second period of last Saturday's game due to a skate injury to his foot. . . maybe they should have a bonspiel every week—last week's spiel at the Arena didn't give the Curries a practice and the soldiers turned in one of their best games.

Girls' Basketball Games Tomorrow At Y.W.C.A. Gym

The schedule of the City Girls' Basketball League calls for the Y Bees meeting the Spruce Grove team in the first game of the usual doubleheader at the Y.W.C.A. tomorrow evening, and the Y Aces and Aircraft Repair taking the floor at 9 o'clock.

These Friday evening games are open to any interested public and tomorrow starts the second half of the season play with the lower percentage teams making efforts to improve their standing to be eligible to participate in the finals which are expected to be played at the end of March. Much can happen in the 20 games still to be played as several new players have appeared during January and revised lineups might give some surprising wins.

Individual scoring honor in one game is still held by "Bubbles" Ferrier of the Aircraft with 22, followed by Hilda Hughes, Aces, 20; Kay Heim, Bees, 16; Helen Callahan, Spruce Grove, 15; and Connie Strachan, Starlets, 14. The first four mentioned will be playing tomorrow night.

Sharks once swam in a sea where cattle now graze in the central plain of North America.

The Cleveland Barons watched Saturday's game and after it was over decided he would be satisfied if he could take the Bentley's, Tommy Anderson, Mac Colville, Jimmy Henry and Ed McAneeley back to Cleveland with him.

Note Currie hockey club—Marty Burke went on record after Saturday night's game that the "Toumash" Mustangs have "quite an edge" over the Currie army.

Bisons Edge Out Providence 3-2

PROVIDENCE, R.I., Jan. 27.—(AP)—A goal by Freddie Hunt with only about two minutes to play last night gave the Buffalo Bisons a 3-2 victory over the Providence Reds.

Bisons won by coming from behind. The Reds counted twice late in the second on shots by Harry Cooper and Tony Demers.

Early in the third, the Bisons finally broke through the Providence defence. Larry Thibault scored first and he was followed by Walter Atanas before Hunt's winning goal.

Police Called To Disperse Fans

BOSTON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Mounted police were called to disperse a crowd of several thousand disappointed wrestling fans last night when they were denied entrance into the arena to watch Sgt. Joe Louis, the heavyweight boxing champion, referee a feature mat bout between the self-styled Golden Terror and Jack Calyburne, the negro grappler.

Louis awarded the Terror, a 370-Alabaman, the victory after Calyburne knocked himself out while whirling off the ropes.

Regina Sailors Regain Top Spot

REGINA, Jan. 27.—(CP)—Regina Navy jumped back into first place in the South Saskatchewan Junior Hockey League Wednesday night by edging out a 7-6 overtime victory over Regina Abbots.

The victory pushed the Sailors a half game ahead of Notre Dame Hounds.

Tom Hogan of Navy scored the winner after Clay White had put in a big night for the Sailors by tallying four of the team's goals. Ron Schatz and Milt Montague got the other two for Navy. Al Myers counted three for Abbots and Ralph Wallin, Bob Pelling and Jack Fulton got the others.

Boston Captures War Bond Fixture

HERSHEY, Pa., Jan. 27.—(AP)—Sport fans from 11 Pennsylvania counties purchased war bonds valued at $1,111,750 to see the Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League, defeat the Hershey Bears of the American Hockey League 2-1 in an exhibition game here last night. About 6,000 attended and used their war bonds as admission tickets.

Urges Britain, Dominions to Decide Policy

LONDON, Jan. 27.—(CP)—The time has come for a joint effort by Britain and the Dominions to work out an agreed plan for the future of inter-imperial relations, imperial foreign policy and imperial defence so the empire can speak with one voice about the peace settlement and post-war organization of the empire, the Earl of Listowel said here yesterday.

This should be the main task of the forthcoming conference of prime ministers, the Labor whip in the house of lords told fellow peers two days after Lord Halifax, British ambassador to the United States, said in a Toronto speech that unified empire policies for defence and foreign affairs were essential to the empire's future strength.

QUESTIONS PROGRESS

Lord Listowel noted also the desirability of regional co-operation advocated by Prime Ministers Churchill, Curran and Smuts and wondered what had been done to implement the British government's intentions in this regard. He was anxious particularly to know whether approaches had been made to the dominions and to foreign countries.

Viscount Samuel also raised the question of imperial relations. He said Commonwealth questions had a considerable bearing on Anglo-American relations and added that what he called British imperialism was a whole-hearted friendship and co-operation between the United States and the United Kingdom.

Replying for the government, Viscount Cranborne, Dominions secretary, said questions of an extremely contentious character must be put into cold storage until the war was over and full attention could be given them.

SEE "COUNTER-PLAN" TO THAT OF SMUTS

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—(CP)—In comment yesterday on the speech by Viscount Halifax at Toronto on Monday night, the New York Times said that "one cannot help feeling that in advocating greater unity among the dominions and colonies... Lord Halifax was offering a counter-proposal to the one recently advanced by Jan Smuts, premier of South Africa."

The newspaper said that the unity advocated by the British ambassador to Washington "would be impossible of achievement unless London were to invite a greater measure of responsibility on the part of the dominions for the direction of Empire affairs as an offset against their necessary loss of sovereign rights in their foreign relations."

SEE POWER FADING

"Both statesmen start with the premise that the real Britain faces the risk of becoming a lesser partner of the United States and Russia, and ultimately China, but where Field Marshal Smuts looks abroad for the means of strengthening Britain's position, Lord Halifax would achieve the same result of strengthening the family ties."

"Where the South African statesman favored a restoration of the balance of power through alliances with the Netherlands, Denmark, Belgium, Norway and presumably a reconstituted France, the British ambassador believes that Britain contains within herself the strength to achieve equality with her present major partners, so that with Empire help she can play as large a part in the peace as they (the dominions and colonies) have enabled her to play in war."

House and Senate quickly approved the mustering-out pay legislation and it went to the White House for the president's signature. The bill provides: $100 to veterans with less than 60 days' service, all in the United States; $200 to those with more than 60 days in uniform, all domestically; $300 for those with service overseas or in Alaska.

All service men and women under the rank of captain are eligible except those over 38 who ask to be discharged to take a civilian job, those dishonorably discharged, and students in the army's education-training program.

It is just possible that Canadians who are with a special service force in Italy played a part in the landings, although there has been no official mention of its participation. A Stockholm report, however, claimed Allied specialist troops with the assistance of Italian partisans cut three bridges in the Rome area, presumably behind the German lines.

Official identification of the units is not likely for some time.

Against Proposal Of Lord Halifax

QUEBEC, Jan. 27.—(CP)—Rene Chaboult, lone Bloc Populaire member for the legislature of the legislative assembly yesterday inscribed on the order paper notice of a motion proposing "That the chamber believes it its duty to pronounce itself against the new Imperialism of Lord Halifax and his dangerous tendencies."

Plenty of Action For Hospital Ship

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—For a hospital ship, the "Seminole" saw plenty of action. The army disclosed yesterday that the Seminole rode out an enemy air attack in the Bay of Naples, was strafed by a German submarine, during a burial at sea, and rescued six Allied airmen adrift on a damaged plane.

Movie Moguls Hoaxed by Girl Posing as Man

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 27.—(AP)—The studio thinkers, noted for their agile mental footwork, abandoned yesterday whatever hopes they may have had that they'd discover a handsome new leading man and began wondering if perhaps they didn't have a potential pretty starlet.

The change resulted when Tanis Chandler, 20, and indubitably feminine, who had played a male role successfully in one film, essayed her little hoax again and was disclosed as a girl, a pretty one.

Miss Chandler obtained a role (as a man) in "The Desert Song," at Warner Brothers, and worked therein under the name of Robert Archer. The casting office thought so well of her (or him) that it sent her out for a role in "My Reputation." As a chore man she was supposed to move a lawn, and Director Curtis Bernhardt could not see why anyone so engaged under a southern California sun should be burdened by jacket and shirt.

"Okay, okay, I'm a girl," Miss Chandler said.

She's hoping that they'll give her a chance in feminine roles.

3 Billions Voted For U.S. Veterans

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—The United States Congress voted yesterday a $3,000,000,000 pot of gold for veterans of this war, to be paid out in amounts ranging from $100 to $300 each upon honorable discharge.

House and Senate quickly approved the mustering-out pay legislation and it went to the White House for the president's signature.

The bill provides: $100 to veterans with less than 60 days' service, all in the United States; $200 to those with more than 60 days in uniform, all domestically; $300 for those with service overseas or in Alaska.

All service men and women under the rank of captain are eligible except those over 38 who ask to be discharged to take a civilian job, those dishonorably discharged, and students in the army's education-training program.

Nazis' Mass Killings in Russia Are Revealed as Graves Opened

By DUNCAN HOOPER

MOSCOW, Jan. 27.—(CP)—Along with other foreign correspondents, I attended the investigation by a special Soviet commission into German atrocities in Katyn forest.

The stench of death filled the air. We looked down into a huge rectangular pit. Below us, packed in the pit like sardines in a tin, we saw several layers of bodies which looked as if football crowds had been lined up bodily and pressed in the earth.

The bodies appeared in a fair state of preservation but were compressed and mummified. One of the biggest graves contained eight layers of bodies, the total number being variously estimated at between 8,000 and 10,000.

NUMBER UNCERTAIN

Until all graves are fully opened up it will be impossible to tell with any certainty the exact number. Teams of surgeons and assistants are carrying out post-mortem examinations. Working from dawn to dusk they deal with about 760 bodies daily.

All bodies so far examined have been shot through the back of the head with revolver bullets which traversed the brain and came out of the other side. Some bodies were found with their hands tied behind their backs.

The commission is satisfied that the unit in charge of the shootings was the German 537th construction battalion.

RUSSIAN TELLS NEWSMEN OF MASS KILLINGS

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—(CP)—Bill Downs, CBS correspondent just back from a year in Russia, has told of German atrocities committed within the U.S.S.R.

He spoke at a luncheon in his honor Tuesday and later in an interview of mass funeral pyres, graveyard prisoners alive—and of records of such criminal activities by which the Russians hope to bring retribution to the Nazi killers after the war.

He said he had spoken with one of 100 Russians who had been shackled in leg-irons and forced to act as grave-diggers at the burial of 50,000 to 100,000 Jews near Kiev. The man told him how the victims were shot and thrown into the huge shallow grave.

"Some of them weren't dead," Downs related being told. "As a body was piled on the bodies already in the grave, it kept moving from the struggles underneath."

He said the Russian who was telling him the story at this point broke down and screamed. Downs said he had gone insane.

The Gestapo did its killings on Tuesdays and Thursdays. One of the Gestapo's favorite methods—something they picked up from the Japs—was to kill as many prisoners as there were Gestapo men on duty," he said.

"Each Gestapo man would march out his individual victim, take him to the courtyard, and just before the prisoner could get to the wall, the Gestapo man put a bullet into the base of the victim's brain."

Downs said an atrocities commission had been set up and a complete dossier is being kept of all known cases of Nazi atrocity and will be used by the Russians to gain retribution for "every stinking thing" the Germans have done in Russia.

They have, as yet, not been able to muster sufficient strength for a satisfactory counter-attack and meanwhile the British American forces, thanks largely to an unexpected resumption of calm seas permitting full use of landing facilities, are growing hourly stronger.

Allies Rushing in Supplies To Bolster Invasion Force

By C. L. SULZBERGER

New York Times Correspondent (Distributed by The Canadian Press)

WITH THE ALLIED AMPHIBIOUS FORCES SOUTH OF ROME, Jan. 27.—Reinforced by a growing stream of supplies and equipment, pouring into the sheltered port of Anzio or transported to the beaches by chugging "ducks" loaded to the gunwales, United States troops on the Allied beachhead southeast of Rome seized the initiative Tuesday from the still-disorganized Germans and, under cover of a growing artillery barrage, were attacking slowly farther inland. Recently landed tanks now are in action.

Field Marshal Gen. Albert Kesselring, commanding the German troops in Italy, meanwhile is desperately seeking to disrupt the constant flow of material and troops, which are building up a bulging menace and threatening to outflank his main forces far southward, by calling in all available bombers from as far away as Bordeaux, including long-range Heinkel 177s, in an effort to knock out the vast armada of supply ships lying off the resort area of Anzio and Nettuno. His success has been limited.

The Germans, in addition to rushing up all available motorized elements from divisions recently sucked southward into the Allied trap, have begun flying in reinforcements and supplies by plane and glider.

Discharged Vets Can Get Ribbon

OTTAWA, Jan. 27.—(CP)—Defence headquarters last night announced that all officers and other ranks discharged from the army or air force before the Canadian volunteer service medal ribbon and silver clasp were authorized, may claim them on written application to the records departments of either of the two services in Ottawa.

Naval personnel already discharged will not receive the award until the medal is available, and will be notified by naval headquarters of eligibility.

The announcement said all discharged men and women are eligible to wear the ribbon providing they voluntarily served on active war service and completed 18 months' total service or were discharged as the direct result of injuries suffered on active duty.

Those discharged after having gone outside of Canada will be eligible to wear the ribbon if they completed six months' total voluntary service and will be eligible to wear the silver clasp if they served 60 days on duty beyond the territorial boundaries of Canada.

Plant in Regina To Manufacture New Gun Mounts

REGINA, Jan. 27.—(CP)—Plans were being made yesterday for the manufacture in Regina of twin mounts for the Oerlikon anti-aircraft gun which has proven its worth in naval convoy ships. Regina Industries Limited, operated by General Motors of Canada, will make the guns for shipment direct to admiralty destinations. J. B. Highfield of General Motors said the contract involves trans-shipment of approximately 30 large machines of a special type from the Oshawa plant for gun manufacture here. It will take several months to fill the contract, he said.

Says Government Must Assure All Citizens Security

QUEBEC, Jan. 27.—(CP)—National Progressive Conservative leader John Bracken told members of the Canadian, Rotary, Kiwanis and Optimists Clubs at a joint meeting here yesterday that it will be the job of the post-war government to assure to all citizens a minimum of well-being and security.

Mr. Bracken outlined "the weakness of yesterday's society" as compared to "today's strength" and pointed out "the tremendous challenge for the future of Canada's expanding economy."

Mr. Bracken, who is participating in the Victory bospital here, spoke in French and English.

Many Boys Active In Y.M.C.A. Clubs

The Young Men's Christian Association reported Wednesday that 236 boys from nine to 17 years old are actively participating in club programs each week in the Y.M.C.A.

The clubs, including Juvenile, Gra-Y, Rotary, Optimist, Torch, Junior Leaders and Intermediate Leaders, already have held many athletic contests such as handball, badminton, bowling and a number of other sports; juvenile guests; industrial tours; an Optimist banquet and an airplane competition.

W. Armour Bull, boys' work secretary, said that plans for the future include parents' nights, a Rotary banquet and Gra-Y show.

From being 40 per cent. self-sufficient in food before the war Britain has now achieved 70 per cent. self-sufficiency.

Wetaskiwin Airmen Meet in England

Pharmacist, school teacher, student and clergyman respectively in private life, the above four citizens of Wetaskiwin met recently at the same advanced R.C.A.F. airfield to which they were posted in England. It was an unusual occurrence for four men in air force blue from the same hometown to come together on the same station, so the cameraman suggested they should pose for a picture, believing the folks back home would get a kick out of it. From left to right the boys are: PO. William Odell, 27-year-old pharmacist, graduate of the University of Alberta, who enlisted as an aircraftman and won his commission in July last year; PO. Edwin M. Sanderson, former high school teacher, who enlisted as an aircraftman and was commissioned in February, 1943; PO. William M. Bennett, 20, who was a pupil with Odell in P.O. Sanderson's class at Wetaskiwin High School; and Squadron Leader Donald Carlson, a chaplain whose wife now lives at Yorkton, Sask.

Metropolitan Church Holds Annual Meeting

The 52nd annual congregational meeting of Metropolitan United church, and the first since entering the new church, was held on Wednesday evening in the assembly hall of the new church. After the business meeting a social hour was held with Miss Audrey Hainstock contributing musical numbers and refreshments served by the women of the church.

The Rev. R. McElroy Thompson is the minister. Reports indicated substantial progress in all departments. There were 133 new members added to the church roll during the year; the Sunday School has an enrollment of more than 500, and congregations have increased. About $3,000 was raised for missions from all sources, and some $27,000 for all purposes.

The following were elected to fill vacancies on the session and committee of stewards: Session: The Rev. J. P. Berry, G. R. Bruce, Dr. W. M. Cormack, J. W. Doze, C. J. Kidd, A. L. Marks, Harold Sheppard, Dr. E. J. Thompson. Stewards: C. E. Ayre, A. L. Burrows, R. F. Clarke, W. G. Heath, W. J. McLeod, Dr. Walter Morrish, George Prudham, Fred Richards, C. R. Strong, Dr. J. C. Ward.

WAR SERVICE
The active war service committee of the church, in addition to sending Christmas parcels, had written more than 1,800 letters from the church to enlisted members and adherents.

The names of those on the church honor roll who had fallen in battle during the year were read by Miss Hainstock, and the congregation stood in silence for a moment in tribute.

Financial reports were presented by the following: Building committee, W. H. Langman, secretary; building fund committee, A. L. Burrows; trustees, W. W. Prevey; committee of stewards, Charles Ayre; treasurer, H. P. Brownlee. G. R. Bruce and Prof. W. A. Lang presented the reports on religious education; Mrs. F. T. Cook for the Women's Association; and Mrs. J. K. Smith for the Women's Missionary Society. V. McElroy reported for the church session.

A resolution of appreciation of the minister's leadership was unanimously adopted.

Production of Butter Touches New High Mark

For the 12-month period ended Dec. 31 last, Alberta creamery butter production totalled 38,652,027 pounds, an increase of 4.5 per cent over the previous high production of 36,985,909 pounds recorded in 1942, according to figures released Thursday by D. H. McCallum, provincial dairy commissioner.

For the month of December alone, however, Alberta butter production showed a decrease of 6.7 per cent over the corresponding period of 1942. In the same month there was a decrease of 15.6 per cent in the production throughout the Dominion.

Cheddar cheese production in 1943 dropped from 3,908,545 to 2,563,317 pounds, a decrease of 1,345,228 pounds or 34.4 per cent. During December cheese made a slight recovery, but even at that a production decrease of 2.6 per cent was recorded.

Creamery butter stocks on hand in this province on Jan. 1 amounted to 3,310,115 pounds as against 2,455,398 pounds on Jan. 1, 1943. In the Dominion butter stocks on hand Jan. 1 amounted to 46,878,102 pounds as against 23,075,873 for the same date of 1943.

edmonton parade... search for valentines is on

It was no ordinary crowd at the department store counter. At least, it didn't look like the "rayon stocking hunter" crowd or the "now I've got you towel" crowd.

My curiosity was aroused, so I pushed and jostled my way until I got close enough to see what was going on. It couldn't be that so many people were having birthdays all at the same time, yet the greeting card counter was just swamped.

With my best boarding house reach, I sneaked through a three-deep blockade and hauled out a greeting card for examination.

Sure enough, and I had almost forgotten, it was a Valentine greeting. The one in my hand was rather a goosy one, with hearts and pre-war paper lace and one of those stereotyped "because I love you" messages.

But the fascination had gripped me and so I moved forward with the crowd until I was at the counter. It was a wartime selection, mostly pre-war in appearance, with only the particularly expensive sentimental ones and some of the bolder "I aim to make you mine, you Valentine" ones which have never been too popular.

DISAPPOINTED

There was a young woman standing near me and slowly getting very exasperated. She picked each card up, examined it carefully and put it back in disgust. She did that until it seemed as though she had tried every card, but to no avail.

Suddenly, I noticed there were tears in her eyes, and I was embarrassed, so I smiled foolishly. It was all she needed to break down and she smiled through her tears, and spoke to me.

"I've been looking at cards till I'm blue in the face," she said, by way of explanation, "and there isn't a single one good enough."

"Good enough?" I asked.

"Yes," she said. "You see, it has got to be a special card. It's for my husband overseas and this is the first Valentine's Day we won't be together."

Court Grants New Trial For North Trapper

George Desjarlais, Conklin district Indian, was successful in his appeal against conviction and sentence on a charge of murdering Karl N. Hemmingsen, Monday River district trapper, a new trial being ordered by the Alberta court of appeal on the ground that the jury failed to adequately place before the jury the appellant's defence.

Date of the new trial has not been set.

Hon. Lucien Maynard, K.C., attorney general, after consultation with the law officers of the crown, told the court that he would not oppose a new trial, adding that the best interests of justice would be served by a new trial. Hugh Calais Macdonald, K.C., was counsel for the appellant.

The murder charge against Desjarlais followed the finding of Hemmingsen's body in Monday River in November, 1942. A cousin of the appellant, Sam Desjarlais, was also charged with and found guilty by a jury of this murder. His appeal is now under consideration by the court.

Rag Torch Starts Automobile Blaze

Because the oil pressure was down in his car, Willes Mitchell, 12009 93 street, told police he held a rag torch under the oil pan. The oil on the pan became ignited, the flames spread to the vacuum tank, fired the gas and anti-freeze in the radiator, and burned the wiring and hose connections, before firemen from Halls 2 and 5 arrived on the scene, shortly after 1:20 a.m. Thursday.

Mitchell stated he was on his way home from work and had reached 118 avenue and the Fort road, when he first noticed the oil pressure as being down.

Fish, Game Group Will Meet Friday

The Northern Alberta Fish and Game Protective League of Edmonton will hold its first meeting of the 1944 season at the Corona Friday evening, at which the guest speaker will be Dr. R. A. Rooney, past president of the provincial association.

The program will include a report by Mr. Brown of the entomology branch of the University of Alberta on researches conducted on diseases among moose and deer. Ray Ruge will give the commentary on a newsreel of the 1941 championship race meet of the Eastern Ice-Yachting Association of New York, New Jersey and Connecticut, entitled "Whistling Wings."

Films "depicting the strange animal life peculiar to Australia and our own heritage of the wild on this continent," will be shown.

A-R-O-U-N-D THE TOWN

Bank clearings through the Edmonton Clearing House for the week ended Thursday, amounted to $8,935,227.80. The figure for the corresponding week last year was $5,273,298.53.

Found guilty in supreme court Thursday by Chief Justice W. C. Ives on a charge of having carnal knowledge with a girl under 14 years old, John Wirsch, Edmonton, was sentenced to serve 18 months in Fort Saskatchewan jail.

Kenneth McCracken, Edmonton youth who pleaded guilty to theft of an automobile and several charges of breaking and entering dwellings, was remanded in custody by Chief Justice W. C. Ives in supreme court Thursday, until March 20, when he will be sentenced.

Miss Bertha Drewry, British girl believed to be the first slowaway on a trans-Atlantic flight, has reached Vancouver according to a letter received here by Mayor John W. Fry. Following a brief visit to Edmonton Miss Drewry went north for two weeks and washed dishes at Whitehorse, Yukon Territory, according to her letter. She told the mayor she had a wonderful trip, and was planning to return north in an effort to visit Alaska. Passport difficulties prevented her making the entry into Alaska on her recent flight north, the letter stated.

Napoleon Gullion, Athabasca truck driver, through his solicitor, Percy G. Davies, K.C., entered a claim in supreme court Thursday seeking special and general damages amounting to $32,849.35 from Edson Leroy Burt for injuries received in a crash between two trucks on Feb. 17, 1943 in the outskirts of Morinville. It is alleged in the statement of claim that the defendant negligently operated a gasoline truck, and ran into the rear of the truck operated by the plaintiff causing it to pass over the plaintiff's body. He was making repairs to his truck at the time and was working underneath it. It is claimed that Mr. Gullion suffered serious injuries that necessitated lengthy medical and hospital care, and that permanent injury to his left shoulder resulted.

Prisoner-of-War

Flt. Sgt. Robert Dixon, 20-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Dixon of 10420 145 street, who was previously reported missing after air operations overseas, and has now been officially reported a prisoner of war in Germany. He is 22 years old. A veteran of many heavy raids on German cities, Flt. Sgt. Dixon helped to bomb Frankfurt, Duesseldorf, Bremen, Berlin and others. Born in Saskatchewan he attended school there and later in Edmonton. Prior to the outbreak of war he was employed here by the British American Oil Company Ltd. Enlisting in June 1941 he trained as a wireless air gunner and has been overseas for more than a year. A brother, LAC. Ray Dixon, 19, is training as a wireless operator with the R.C.A.F. at Calgary.

Credit Union Names Officers For Next Year

The annual meeting of the Edmonton Unemployment Insurance Commission Credit Union was held on Monday in the commission offices.

A summary of the year's activities was presented by the president, R. H. Huggett, on behalf of the board of directors. The report of the secretary-treasurer, Lloyd A. Cunningham, showed the union to be in a fine financial position. The credit committee's report was presented by Lloyd Jones, chairman. Mrs. E. Coughlin's report on the supervisory committee also was presented.

Full discussion followed all reports, particularly in matters pertaining to insurance, education, and social affairs.

Officers elected for 1943 are as follows: Board of directors: Roland H. Huggett, president, (re-elected); Alex B. Bean, vice-president, (re-elected); Lloyd A. Cunningham, insurance committee chairman; Miss Beryl Wheatley, education and social committee chairman; William Begg, W. J. Cubitt.

Canuck Girls, Brides of R.A.F. Men, En Route to British Isles

By HAZEL DEAN

MONTREAL, Jan. 27.—(CP)—A group of western-Canadian girls, brides of R.A.F. men formerly stationed in Canada, left Montreal by train last night with a party of some 300 British women and children en route to join husbands and fathers in England.

The young westerners, few of them more than 25 years old, had little fear of homesickness as they settled down for the overnight trip to New York. "Glad and excited about the journey, they were anxious to see the new homes prepared for them by their husbands who returned to England several months ago after training in western-Canadian stations."

Although Middlesbrough, Yorkshire, is a far cry from Medicine Hat, Alta., 19-year-old Luella MacKenzie Wilcock is "really looking forward" to exploring the Yorkshire countryside with her husband, I.A.C. Leonard Wilcock, who returned to Britain four months ago.

NOT SORRY TO LEAVE

"I'm not a bit sorry to leave Canada," this young westerner said "and I'm sure I won't be homesick. I can hardly wait to see London." Eighteen-year-old Joyce Davis and Mary Hisketh, 22, both of Moose Jaw, Sask., have "waited a long time" for the opportunity to visit their husbands' homes.

Joyce and Mary, who met for the first time when they boarded the train at Montreal, admitted they would miss Saskatchewan but they were too busy learning to spell such names as "Shropshire" and "Middlesbrough" to worry about loneliness.

Mrs. Hisketh, formerly Mary Davidson, will join her husband, Flt. Sgt. John Hisketh, in Liverpool. Mrs. Davis, who was Joyce Elking, will make her home in Shrewsbury, Shropshire, in the Midlands of England.

Sgt. Ldr. G. H. Smith of Saskatoon, Sask., a Canadian in the R.A.F. went to Britain several months ago. Now his English wife, who has been in Canada more than two years, is joining him with three-year-old daughter, Jennifer. A "real Canadian" according to her mother, Jennifer lost her English accent during her stay in Saskatoon.

"BATH" NOT "BAWTH"
"I have a 'bath' now, not a 'bawth,'" she said with a grin.

Jane Harvey, wife of Flt. Sgt. Griffen Harvey, struggled with her suitcase while her three-month-old daughter, Pamela Kathleen curled up in a lower berth.

The former West Summerland, B.C., girl is on her way to Cowly, Oxford, where her husband is waiting to meet Pamela Kathleen for the first time. Mrs. Harvey was the former Jane Dawson and recently lived in Medicine Hat.

Mrs. J. Holden, hurried into the train while a smiling porter carried daughter Irene Anne, 10 months old.

"I'm in such a hurry to get over and get this baby home safe to her father," she said. Mrs. Holden, the former Agnes Irene Moe, of Hearne, Sask., will meet her husband "somewhere in Scotland."

Planning Board Of C. V. Bureau Elects Officers
A meeting of the Planning Board of the Citizens' Volunteer Bureau was held in the Memorial Hall on Wednesday at 2 p.m.

The following officers and conveners were elected: Mrs. H. C. Newland, re-elected chairman; Mrs. J. A. Clarke, vice-chairman; Mrs. A. Earnshaw, re-elected recording secretary; Mrs. W. Ray Schurman, zoning chairman; Mrs. Hector Kennedy, re-elected education chairman; Mrs. W. J. Dick, re-elected placement convener; Mrs. H. B. Porteous, publicity convener.

The Planning Board members were previously elected at the annual meeting of the Citizens' Volunteer Bureau which took place in Talmud Torah Hall on January 19, when over 160 attended.

Leap Year Illegal In North Carolina
WINSTON-SALEM, N.C.—(CP)—Clerk of Court W. E. Church has discovered that—legally—there is no February 29 in North Carolina.

He pointed out that subsection 4 of Section 3940 of the Consolidated Statutes of the state says: "In every leap year the increasing day and the day before, in all legal proceedings, shall be counted as one day."

YOUNG WAR WORKER
KINGSTON, Surrey—(CB)—Four-year-old Susan Allen claims to be the youngest war worker in Britain. Recently she confidently demonstrated the domestic art of ironing at a Wartime Nursery exhibition.

By GAYNOR MADDOX

You may not have as much time for bridge as you used to, but once in a while everyone can find time for a session at the card table with old friends. You will relax and have fun and feel refreshed for the carrots, 1 cup cooked peas, dash of cayenne.

Dissolve gelatine in hot stock. Add vinegar, salt, and onion. Chill. When slightly thickened, fold in vegetables, seasoned with cayenne. Turn into individual molds. Chill.

next day's war work. You'll want refreshments, of course, and won't have much time for fussing. Let sandwiches with ration-free fillings, plus a molded salad and tea or coffee, be the evening's climax.

STEAMED NUT BREAD

One cup bread flour, 2 teaspoons soda, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup corn meal, 1 cup whole wheat flour, 3/4 cup molasses, 2 cups sour milk or buttermilk, 1 1/2 cups chopped nut meats.

Sift flour, soda and salt. Mix with corn meal and whole wheat flour. Mix molasses with sour milk; add dry ingredients. Beat well. If desired, add raisins or nuts. Steam 2 hours in greased molds filled two-thirds full and covered tightly.

until firm. Unmold on crisp lettuce, sprinkled with French dressing. Garnish with mayonnaise.

JELLIED VEGETABLE ENTREE

Prepare gelatine mixture as directed above. Cover bottom of ring mold with slightly thickened gelatine. Arrange slices of hard-cooked egg against sides of mold. Chill until firm. Unmold on crisp lettuce, sprinkled with French dressing. Fill centre of mold with mayonnaise. Garnish with watercress and radish roses.

Tomorrow's Menu
Breakfast: Canned grapefruit juice with fresh orange juice, oatmeal, toasted cornbread, jam, coffee, milk for children.
Luncheon: Black bean soup, jellied carrots and peas, heated soft rolls, cottage cheese spread, steamed nut bread, tea, milk for children.
Dinner: Creamed fish and green peas on whole wheat toast, fried potatoes, baked squash, lettuce, spinach and celery salad, fruit cup, cookies, coffee, milk for children.

HATS ARE FRILLIER, DAINTIER AND MORE WHIMSICAL FOR SPRING 1944

"Y" Clubs Hold Dance

Silver stars and a glowing moon in a midnight blue sky transformed the gymnasium of the Y.W.C.A. Saturday night for "Moonlight Capers," the annual dance sponsored by the Gay League and the Woch-O-Megan club of the "Y." The clubs entertained men of the R.C.A.F. and U.S.A.A.F. and guests were welcomed by Mrs. E. P. Wellwood, Miss Margaret Hart and Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Magrath.

Social conveners were Miss June Biggs of the Gay League and Mrs. Gertrude Munro of the Woch-O-Megan club. They were assisted by a committee consisting of Miss Betty Delany, Miss June Coughlan, Miss Lillian Nielsen, Miss Isobel McGrother, Miss Dorothy Law and Miss Marjorie Burkholder.

Members of the Woch-O-Megan club were in charge of decorations.

Prisoners of War Relatives Association Attains Recognition
MONTREAL, Jan. 2.—(CP)—The Canadian Prisoners of War Relatives Association now has "attained recognition as one of Canada's leading war services and is a national organization in the true sense of the word," Mrs. J. O. Asellin, president of the association, told its annual meeting here last night.

Suggestions for spring bonnets are the talk of the feminine world right now. Hats are definitely frillier, daintier and more whimsical for 1944, and lots of veiling gives a soft touch. The white lace-like flowers, lodged under the brim of this black and white veil-trimmed aquamarine felt chignonette, are as beguiling as a widow's peak. Walter Florell designed it for the first breath of spring, and also the new flat-top and chignon hair-do which is now as popular as a pompadour. Rich red bird wings tipped with black, arranged in flight formation by designer Nicole, top left, make a most effective and bright hat for the Easter parade. At the top right is a small crown model which has been made from a man's felt, and trimmed with small ribbons of the same material. At the lower left is Walter Florell's "Dessert Song" fez of golden sand felt, swathed with black dotted white veiling and topped with two red roses. The easy-to-wear drowsy black panama at the right, lower, with small crushed crown banded with brilliants and trimmed with a tiny black ostrich plume, is designed by John Fredericks.

The Personal Column

Three hundred and fifty people are expected to attend the annual church meeting and supper to be held in First Presbyterian church Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. Women of the 2nd Auxiliary, Central Ladies' Aid are making arrangements for the supper.

Mrs. Fulton Gillespie heads the committee in charge of arrangements, and she is being assisted by Mrs. D. Revell, Miss B. Murray, Mrs. D. Lockertie, Mrs. S. McCuaig, Mrs. A. T. Kinnaird, Mrs. John Macgregor, Mrs. Fraser Duncan, Mrs. H. M. Vango, Mrs. A. Forrester, Mrs. C. Webb, Mrs. F. D. Roxburgh and Mrs. H. Hunter. The Rev. J. MacBeath Miller will preside.

Mrs. R. G. Drinnan has returned to the city after spending a month in Vancouver and Victoria.

Mrs. F. Chorley is spending the remainder of the winter in Beaumont, Texas, with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Gardiner.

Mrs. Craig Moon spent the weekend in Calgary with her husband, Lt. J. C. Moon.

Miss Eileen Swan will arrive from Calgary by plane Friday to be a week-end guest of Miss Margaret Webb.

Mrs. J. Lemmon has returned to the city after spending a week in Winnipeg, where she attended the Lemmon-Kickley wedding.

Members of the Lions' club, their wives and friends held an enjoyable evening at the Glenora club on Saturday at an old-fashioned box social. The guests were welcomed by the conveners, Mrs. H. Wood, and Mrs. Jack Miller. Bingo and dancing completed the evening. The door prize was won by Mrs. Wesley Hunt, and the winner of the picture raffle was Bert Burden.

The Catholic Girls' Club held a social evening recently at Sacred Heart Parish hall. Their guests were a number of Catholic servicemen who are stationed in the city. About 70 young people were in attendance. These affairs will be held weekly on Sunday evenings starting at 8:30 p.m. A hearty invitation is extended to all those who wish to come. The committee in charge of arrangements for this coming week includes: Miss Delphine McDonald, Miss Charlotte McMillan, Miss Josephine McLaughlin, Miss Agnes Morin, Miss Margaret Morin and Miss Josephine Nuss.

Eastwood Ladies' Lawn Bowling Club sponsored a court whist recently when the prize winners were Mrs. W. Sinclair, Mrs. P. Metz and Mrs. E. Ireland. The club's next card party will be held Feb. 25.

An enthusiastic audience of soldiers, airmen, C.W.A.C.'s and their friends crowded the Canadian Legion hall Wednesday night for a presentation of "Out of the Frying Pan," by the Strathcona High school players. A Craig, acting supervisor of the hut, introduced Miss M. Simpson, director of the play. The production was sponsored by the War Services Entertainment Board. Members of the cast were entertained after the show with light refreshments.

Mrs. Charles Gillespie has returned to the city after spending several weeks in Toronto with her daughters Mrs. Harry Prevey and Miss Marcia Gillespie.

Miss Cleone Duncan of Calgary, niece of Mrs. Phillip Jean of Edmonton has left for Toronto to take part in the competition, "Singing Stars of Tomorrow." Miss Duncan will appear on the program this Sunday afternoon.

In 1940 British troops over-ran Italian East Africa, although they were outnumbered by almost 10 to one.

Mother: "Your bones need some kinds of food and you need other kinds to make you grow and be strong. That's why you need milk and vegetables as well as bread and jelly."

Mother: "You can't get down from the table until you drink your milk and eat your potato. If you want Daddy to read you a story you'd better hurry up and mind."

Even small children can often understand a simple explanation of why they should do certain things and the forcing process which arouses antagonism is thus avoided.

Y.W.C.A. Board of Directors Annual Meeting to be Feb. 8

The annual meeting and dinner of the Y.W.C.A. board of directors will be held Feb. 8, at 6:30 p.m. in the Y.W.C.A. It was announced at the regular monthly meeting held on Wednesday.

Mrs. M. C. McCannel, president, was in the chair for the meeting. Mrs. W. J. Kelly led the devotionals.

Department reports were given covering the residence, cafeteria, gym and pool, girls' work, social service, travellers' aid and war services. Briefly, 362 people registered for a transient room during the month of December. More than thirteen thousand meals were served in the cafeteria. The swimming pool registered 891 swimmers and 694 made use of the gym floor. Two hundred and thirty-six trains were met and 238 people assisted. In "rooms registry" 451 were transferred to rooms, 129 servicemen and their relatives were helped to secure accommodation and more than 300 civilians were assisted in securing a room or rooms. Five hundred and thirty-seven persons asking for permanent living quarters could not be helped at the rooms' registry desk.

The special board meeting to vote on the slate of officers was set for Feb. 11. The birthday tea date was planned for Saturday, Feb. 19.

Those present were: Mrs. Geo. Andrews, Mrs. W. A. Bayley, Mrs. Charles H. Grant, Mrs. W. J. Kelly, Mrs. G. S. Lord, Mrs. F. W. Milne, Mrs. A. L. Magrath, Mrs. Walter Morrish, Mrs. McCannel, Mrs. W. A. MacDonald, Mrs. D. Gordon MacQueen, Mrs. C. MacDonald, Mrs. H. C. Pettit, Mrs. A. J. H. Powell, Mrs. W. K. Reikie, Mrs. R. T. Rose, Mrs. R. F. Shaner, Mrs. W. J. Thomson, Mrs. Frank Wolfe and Mrs. E. P. Wellwood.

Gyrettes Club Knits for War

Edmonton Gyrettes club comprised of 15 ladies is doing a wonderful job in helping the war effort.

Every Friday afternoon they assemble in the basement of D'Almeida's Dress Shop, and knit and sew for the Bombed-out areas in Britain. They are kept busy in making over old garments, making quilts, and at present are modelling stuffed toys for the wee tots.

Nothing is wasted, all woollen clippings are saved until about 150 pounds have been collected; this is sent to Winnipeg and made into blankets, to be sent overseas.

All finished articles are sent to the distribution centre in London. Several letters of thanks and appreciation for generosity have been received.

Mrs. Jack Usher is president of the club, and Mrs. Cyril Cormick is secretary.

Congregation Sees Burning Mortgage

More than 400 persons gathered at Robertson United church Wednesday evening, to witness the burning of the mortgage of the church, a ceremony which signified the end of long years of struggle to pay for the building.

The Rev. Dr. Macdosh Mackinnon, present minister, in an address, cited the bright outlook for Robertson.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Hardisty, who were present at the inception of Robertson church, and who have been regular attendants at the services ever since, officiated at the burning of the documents. E. E.
Saxsmith tore the mortgage into small pieces, placed them in the small receptacle, and Mrs. Hardisty set fire to the pieces with a candle which had been handed to her by Dr. Mackinnon. Mr. Hardisty is treasurer of the church.

Dr. A. F. Anderson told the congregation of early Robertson church here, and re-accounted stories about the church, its people and its ministers.

Mrs. George Scott gave an account of all the work accomplished by women of the church.

George Bryan, K.C., spoke on
"Today in Robertson," and Dr. T.
G. How gave an address on the young people of the church.

Previous to the mortgage burning in the auditorium of the church, a musicale was given by G. A.
Kovan, organist, and Norma Madill, contralto. Dinner was served in the front hall of the church. Members of the W.A. of the church made the arrangements.

Among the guests were the Rev.
W. T. Young, minister of Norwood United church, and Mrs. Young; the Rev. Dr. C. Ramsey, intermoderator of Garneau United church, and Mrs.
Ramsey; the Rev. Dr. E. T. Scragg, minister of Wesley United, and Mrs.
Scragg; and the Rev. E. S. Otley, minister of Christ Church, and Mrs.
Otley.

Hearing Appeal On Valuable Fur

Ownership of $21,000 worth of white and silver fox furs depends upon the outcome of an appeal now being heard by the Alberta court of appeal.

George Magrum, Yellowknife district trapper, is seeking a court declaration that it was beyond the power of the magistrate who convicted him on a charge of taking game with poison bait to order the confiscation to the crown of furs found in his possession.

J. N. McDonald, K.C., counsel for the appellant, submitted to the court that there was no power to forfeit or confiscate vested in a magistrate in the North West Territories Game Act or regulations pertaining to that act.

He submitted that the only power to confiscate or forfeit was when the person was caught by a peace officer in the actual offense of taking fur through poison bait, and the fur was taken by the peace officer on view.

Neil D. Maclean, K.C., is acting for the Dominion government. The appeal hearing is continuing.

R.C.A.F. Takes Over Control Edmonton-Yukon-Alaska Air Travel

Control of priorities for civilian air travel between Edmonton and Alaska and the Yukon has been transferred from the Dominion department of transport to the R.C.A.F.

Transfer of control took place recently under new directions from Ottawa, placing all aerial traffic in the Northwest directly under the control of the R.C.A.F. for the duration of the war.

The issuing of priorities for civilian passengers using commercial air lines along the North-West Staging Route is now under the direction of F. L. C. DeWitt with offices in the city airport administration building.

Prior to the transfer all priorities for air travel out of Edmonton were handled by the Dominion department of transport office under the direction of Warren Scrivener.

The new regulations do not affect priorities for civilian air travel to points in the Mackenzie River and Arctic districts. Such priorities are still issued by Mr. Scrivener from his offices in the Williamson Building.

The arrangement has followed swiftly on the raising of the status of the Northwest Staging Route from a unit of No. 4 Training Command to an operational group forming part of Western Air Command, Vancouver.

A recent Dominion order in council also places the R.C.A.F. in charge of all movements of aircraft, both military and civilian, in the northwest which for operational purposes has been declared a "prohibited area."

MAN TOWERS
R.C.A.F. personnel now man all control towers of the chain of airports between Edmonton and the Alaskan boundary.

United States military and civilian transport planes use the ports extensively and the route has also been used to ferry lend-lease aircraft to Soviet Russia.

C.P. Air Lines operate a daily passenger service to Alaska and the Yukon from Edmonton.

Will View Stars Varsity Telescope

Weather permitting, the University of Alberta observatory will be open to the public at 8 p.m. Friday, Saturday, the Orion Nebula and a star cluster in the constellation of Perseus will be the objects to be seen.

Dr. J. W. Campbell, of the university faculty, stated that persons who are interested may save themselves trouble and perhaps some discomfort if they will remember that the best telescopes will not penetrate a cloudy sky. Before making the trip to the observatory, note if the sky is clear and the stars plainly visible. Drifting clouds are not objectionable if the greater part of the sky is clear.

Also, the matter of temperature should be considered. In general, 10 above zero may be regarded as the lowest limit, since it is not possible to heat an observatory, on account of the air currents which would make clear seeing impossible. Wind does not as a rule interfere with visibility.

The university authorities are anxious that the public shall have the use of the telescopes as often as possible, but visitors will not be admitted except on regular public nights, or by special arrangement with Dr. Campbell. On other nights the telescopes are required for the use of classes. All visitors are required to register in the book provided.

Orderly Lay-Off Workers Planned

Instructions regarding a system for the orderly lay-off of workers have been received from Ottawa by local Selective Service officials, according to A. O. MacLachlan, acting manager of the Edmonton office.

As there is no demobilization board set up in Alberta officials have been instructed as to the most systematic and orderly manner of handling layoffs so that the workers can be placed in other employment as quickly as possible. Workers who have received army postponements will be the first to be laid off and farmers or agricultural workers will be next in line. These orders affect all war industries or related industries only and any firm anticipating lay-offs must notify the selective service officials.

Third class of workers on the list will be those who can be placed in other suitable jobs locally and then those who can be placed in similar jobs in other parts of Canada.

Mr. MacLachlan reports that at present there are fewer jobs on file at the employment office than for some time and fewer applicants.

Also for the first time in months selective service can report that all restraint orders for help have been filled.

Insurance Fund Total $170,879,493 At December 31st

OTTAWA, Jan. 27.—(CP)—A balance of $170,879,493 remained in the unemployment insurance fund at the end of December, the Unemployment Insurance Commission announced yesterday.

Total monthly revenue plus interest so far earned by the fund amounts to $172,158,408, of which $139,082,042 has been contributed by employers and employees and $27,816,408 by the Dominion government. Interest earned totals $5-259,957.

December benefits paid out of the fund amounted to $51,752, compared with $32,856,24 in November.
Total benefits during the two years
ended Dec. 31 amounted to $1,278-915,87.

Two of Escaped Prisoners Caught

SUBURRY, Ont., Jan. 27.—(CP)—
Two of three prisoners who escaped from the Burwash Industrial Farm were recaptured last night near Coniston, five miles east of here, and search was continuing for the third. Recaptured were William Parnell, serving 21 months for theft and desertion from his ship, and Neil McLean, serving 15 months
for breaking, entering and theft.
Still at large was Thomas Henry Bedard, serving 18 months deter-minate and six months indeterminate for theft.

Tofield Man Shoots 130-Pound Wolf

E. F. McGarvey, conductor of the Kiwanis Golf Club and assistant to the general manager of Northwest Utilities, Ltd., was a "mighty proud" man Thursday. After all, it isn't every man who has a son-in-law that can "put away a wolf."

While hunting quail outside of Tofield, where he lives, his son-in-law, Wilber Gallinger, saw "something making a run for it." Thinking that it was too large to be a dog, Gallinger shot at it and brought it down.

One of the two shots of the high-powered .22 rifle lodged in the 130-pound black wolf's heart, the other broke his leg.

McCauley Group Aids Queen's Fund

Largest contributors to the Queen's Canadian Fund during the month of January were the Mc-Cauley Concert Group of Edmonton with a total of $125.32 proceeds of variety concerts staged in aid of the fund.

Other contributors were: I.O.E.
Jack Ross Chapter of Lethbridge;
$10; Elizabeth McKillop Junior
Chapter, Lethbridge, $5; Round Hill
Women's Institute, $5, and Mrs. E.
M. Stone of 10914 125 street, Edmonton, $10, making a total of $151.32.

Sea Cadets Plan Parade on Friday

Members of the Edmonton Sea Cadet Corps will parade at the naval barracks on Friday of this week at 10:30 hours.

Members and ex-members of the sea cadet bugle band, who have bugles belonging to the Corps in their possession are warned that these must be turned in to Lt. H.
Courtney at this parade.

Rig of the day: blues.

2 Mackinaw Coats Lost From Office

Two mackinaw coats were stolen from his office at Canada Packers buying station, 68 avenue and 99
street, Thomas Hull, 12202 85 street, old city police.

Entry to the office had been made by partially lifting a window and shaking it until the catch became loose. A pair of felt shoes he had left in the building were also missing. Hull stated, after further examination.

Boy in Hospital

Jim Lawrence, nine years old,
of 10239 106 street, was in the general hospital Thursday, suffering from injuries to the face and head, after running into a truck operated by John Meyers, New Norway, at 105 street and Jasper avenue, about 12:15 p.m.

How the accident occurred was not learned.

Plane Crew Killed

BLYTHE, Calif., Jan. 27.—(AP)— Seven members of the crew of a heavy bomber were killed in the crash of their plane near Quartzite, Ariz., while on a combat training flight from the Blythe Army air base Tuesday night, Col. Dave Wade, station commandant, said yesterday.

William Bespaliko, charged with raising the rent of a house from $22 to $24 a month, was found guilty and fined $5 or seven days.

for light and water. The extra charge, said the accused was for storage in the basement.

William Bespaliko, charged with raising the rent of a house from $22 to $24 a month, was found guilty and fined $5 or seven days.

Katherine Boughtin, found guilty of charging a rental higher than that which had been set by the rent control board, was fined $10 or 14 days. Rent had been set at $32 a month, but the occupants of the suite had been charged another $5.

Chicago Futures Continue Steady

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Good trading over the winter wheat and announcement of higher subsidies for flour millers during February influence another price-making influence in grain today. The market held around yesterday's close most of the session with trade light in all pits.

Local traders sold at the start on the moisture news, but the market showed a steady undertone and declines were moderate. As a result, traders took to the buying side and quotations advanced slightly above
the previous close.

Wheat closed unchanged to 1/4 higher,
oats were 1/4 higher, rye was up 1/4,
and barley was 1/4 higher.

Wheat: May 1.17 1/4, July 1.68 1/2, Sept.
1.67 1/2, Dec. 1.67 1/2.
Oats: May 78 1/2, July 76 1/2, Sept. 74 1/2.
Rye: May 1.15 1/2, July 1.29 1/2, Sept.
1.28 1/2, Dec. 1.28 1/2.
Barley: May 1.22, July 1.20 1/2, Sept.
1.18 1/2.

No cash wheat, corn or oats. Barley, malted, 1.25-1.44 1/2 nom.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Fractional irregularly prevailed near the close of today's market although there were a few swings of 1 to 2 points either way. Park & Tilford and United Merchants & Manufacturers touched new lows for 1943-44. In front market the time was Schenley, American Distilling "Plain," Electric Power & Light preferred, and J. C. Penney.

Little Theatre Wins Triumph In Latest Play

The dramatic force of the Edmonton Little Theatre group's production of Maxwell Anderson's play, "The Eve of St. Mark," brought tears and laughter to a sympathetic and capacity premiere audience at the Westglen Auditorium Wednesday night.

Running the gamut of human emotions, the play traces the life of an American farm boy from the time he is drafted for army service until the "Eve of St. Mark" when

MY DAY

WASHINGTON.—Yesterday afternoon I went on a trip which covered many areas, in the outskirts of town and right in the city. It was planned to show me how new buildings for white occupation were encroaching on areas which had once been open for negro housing, and how even in areas which seemed far enough away from the present white building operations, there was objection to land being developed for negro housing units.

The few new buildings to go up on Congress Heights will not solve much of the housing problem. The land that the Zoning Commission

FRECKLES

CURIOUS WORLD

This, however, would not be sufficient to meet the whole problem, and I cannot see how this problem is going to be solved unless more areas are given over to the building of negro housing.

The claim is, of course, that negro housing will lower the value of the adjacent real estate. But where there is new and modern housing, the community, whether it is white or colored, may not show any marked differences in value. Certainly where now there are little islands of very old houses, surrounded by new and modern white developments, the old houses are an eyesore. That need not be the case with modern buildings and, therefore, the deterioration in values in the neighborhood we hope would not occur. However, whatever happens, this is a democracy. These are our citizens, and their right to live decently at the same costs and under similar conditions as other citizens I think must be accepted by all. Present conditions add to the poor health and delinquency problems of the whole city.

This is not only a problem for the District of Columbia. It is a problem which many cities face and I think sooner or later more communities will have to face it.

Last night I attended the anniversary dinner in celebration of the founding of the Woman's National Democratic Club. Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, one of the founders and the first president of the club, presided. Mrs. Woodrow Wilson and many others of the officers and early members were present. It was a pleasant and memorable occasion.

McCoy Health Service

Acidosis is probably one of the most common and unrecognized conditions in America today, yet the type of acidosis which is caused by eating too much of the acid-forming foods and not enough of the alkaline-forming kinds is quickly curable by a corrective diet. Diet is much more valuable than any other treatment for permanently overcoming acidosis.

Many people do not understand exactly what is meant by the term "acidosis." They believe that it means that the blood is acid. This is a wrong conception because the blood is always alkaline during life, and when the blood is acid, death has already occurred. During health and life the blood and tissues of the body are always faintly alkaline. The term "acidosis" then simply means that the body is for a time less alkaline than it should be.

Whether the tissues have a greater or lessened alkalinity depends on the food eaten. With the process of metabolism acids are produced in the body and in order to neutralize these acids it is necessary to have plenty of alkaline elements in the blood. When these acids are properly neutralized by the alkaline elements, we preserve the balance we call health. When the acids are not sufficiently neutralized, we have the beginning of the trouble called "acidosis."

Many of you probably wonder how we find out whether a food is acid-forming or alkaline-forming. When any food is oxidized in the body, an ash remains similar to the ash remaining when any food is burned in a fire. Those foods which leave an acid ash are called "acid-forming" while those leaving an alkaline ash are called "alkaline-forming" foods.

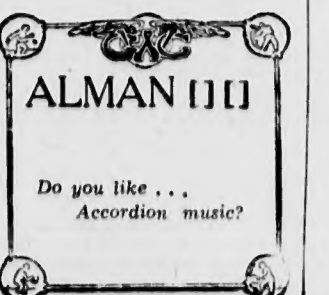

The trouble with most diets is that they contain too many of the acid ash foods and not enough of the alkaline ash foods. To correct this one should eat probably twice as many alkaline ash foods to balance the others. As far as we know it is not possible to eat too many alkaline-forming foods, while it is very easy to eat too many of the acid-forming foods.

Whether a food is alkaline or acid does not depend on whether it tastes sweet or sour but is determined solely by the ash it leaves in the body after being oxidized. Most of the acid fruits such as the oranges and lemons are avoided by many people with acidosis, because of the sour, acid taste. Yet all the citrus fruits leave an alkaline ash in the body and are therefore alkaline-forming, and, when properly used, are some of the finest foods that can be taken for overcoming the symptoms of acidosis.

Acidosis is usually followed by such symptoms as headache, tiredness, gas, constipation, cold sores, sour stomach, paleness of the complexion, listless feeling, and lack of appetite. Acidosis is a serious problem in that it may be produced without one being aware of it. Acidosis is almost always found in such diseases as tuberculosis, rheumatism, nephritis, heart trouble, hardening of the arteries, high blood pressure, catarrh, pyorrhea, etc. etc.

All questions regarding health and diet will be answered. Large stamped, self-addressed envelope must be enclosed. Write on one side of paper only. Letters must not exceed 150 words. Address McCoy Health Service, The McCoy Building, 1151 West 6th Street, Los Angeles, Calif.

All-Out Aerial Strategy

By Maj. A. P. de Seversky

Published information on the extent of our Navy's construction program for aircraft carriers, invasion barges and other types of vessels leaves little doubt that it is planned ultimately to defeat Japan by large-scale amphibious operations.

U.K. Fox Hunt Staged Afoot

LONDON, Jan. 27.—(CP)—In the days of old when things were different Englishmen rode to hunt with a high "lallyho!"

Yesterday, 1,000 tried and true men of Kent went on the hunt afoot. Before them went 100 women using old kettles and sticks.

It was a hunt for keeps—and patriotism—and when the day was done their bag reached 62.

"Nice work," commented their leader, Hines Coleman, chairman of the Kent branch of the National Farmers' union, who organized the shooting hunt to wipe out foxes which had been attacking sheep by daylight.

Commented the Daily Herald, tongue in cheek: "Everything is going to pot—the future looks black, when the fox can't have his fun."

sions, and agriculture must receive its fair share of a nation's income." After a convention banquet held Wednesday evening in the Masonic Temple, at which fraternal delegates gave brief addresses, the convention heard an address by H. A. Craig, of the northern Alberta war finance committee.

URGES LOAN SUPPORT Mr. Craig expressed his appreciation for success of this area in the fifth Victory Loan campaign, and urged even greater support for the sixth loan drive, which is to be held this spring. In referring to the fifth loan drive, he said Alberta's quota was $37,000,000, and that $42,000,000 had been subscribed.

In some parts of the province, one out of every two voters had bought victory bonds in the last campaign, whereas in other units, the figure was one in ten. This was too high a differential, Mr. Craig said. He said he was not unmindful of what Alberta had accomplished in supporting the war effort.

In a second illustration, he pointed out that in some provincial units, the average bond purchase per voter was $74, and in another, $7.

"I would like to see that improved," he told the A.F.U. delegates.

WORK FOR NEW ORDER

A hope that all western farm organizations would play their part in building a new order was voiced by F. T. Appleby, president of the United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan section, when he spoke at the convention's Wednesday night session.

"I would like to see all of us working together," he said. He described the work of his organization in the province of Saskatchewan, and pointed out that the U.F.C. was a non-political organization, as is the farmers' union in this province.

The Saskatchewan organization is not as large as the A.F.U., Mr. Appleby declared.

He said Saskatchewan was carrying a debt of approximately $600,000,000, and that thousands of farmers had turned back their lands to mortgage companies after becoming discouraged with their work.

Describing steps taken in order to work out some measure of debt relief, Mr. Appleby said farmers are gradually going over to the tenant class in the West. He declared there was need of organization to take a firm stand and call a halt to such trends.

EASTERN "INTERFERENCE"

He told the convention of several instances where eastern interests had interfered with establishment and expansion of western industry. "These instances show the extent of the organization we are up against," he said. "We cannot get anywhere without solid organization, and there is need of the co-operative united effort of all."

Largest Flying Boat in World Returns to U.S.

ALAMEDA, Calif., Jan. 27.—(AP)—

The world's largest operating airplane—the United States Navy's flying boat Mars—returned yesterday from Honolulu to complete her first round trip as a passenger and cargo plane in the Pacific theatre of war.

The giant craft made the flight of almost 2,400 statute miles from Hawaii in 12 hours and 17 minutes. Cmdr. Gene Tunney, former world's heavyweight boxing champion, was among the eight passengers. He returned to the United States after seven months of duty in the southwest and south Pacific battle fronts.

In addition to the passengers and 17 crew members the Mars carried a record load of 20,000 pounds of mail.

Trolley Bus Hit by Truck: One Injured

A truck, alleged by a trolley-bus operator to be travelling at high speed, crashed into the side of the bus, damaging both vehicles but injuring no one but Fred Littlechild, 13010 88 street, driver of the truck, at noon Wednesday, on 99 street near 96 avenue, according to city police. Littlechild was injured about the face.

Three girls he had picked up at the top of Seona hill, and who were riding in the cab of the truck, escaped uninjured. Littlechild was said to have told authorities.

No passengers aboard the bus were injured, and they were transferred to another trolley to continue towards the South Side. Motorman of the damaged bus was Allan Dingman, 11423 108 avenue.

TRAVELLING SOUTH Dingman told authorities he was travelling south on 99 street and was forced to swing into the centre of the street because of a parked milk truck. It was then he saw the approaching truck, which appeared to go out of control. As the bus swung back to the west side of the street, the rear of the truck swerved and the vehicle went over the curb, back into the street, and crashed into the left side of the bus.

Littlechild said he was about 30 yards from the bus when it turned into the east side of the street and blocked his path. He applied the brakes, he said, but the truck swerved and the wheels straddled the east curb. He turned left to avoid some rough spots on the ground, he added, but struck the bus.

The three girls who had ridden in the truck had not been injured, he said, adding that they had left the scene of the accident.

Fusiliers Plan Annual Smoker

Old times will be recalled, favorite soldier songs will be sung, and a general good time will be provided for all, when the 2nd (Reserve) Battalion, Edmonton Fusiliers holds its annual smoker at Victoria Armory commencing at 8 p.m. Friday.

The committee in charge has been giving special attention to preparations, and late reports are that it will be the most elaborate and attractive smokers in the history of the organization. Old timers in the unit admit this will be difficult, but expect that it can be achieved.

There will be refreshments, games, music and other entertainment.

Mortgage Company Assets Increased

TORONTO, Jan. 27.—(CP)—Huron and Erie Mortgage Corp. yesterday reported an increase of more than $1,600,000 in assets during 1943, with $43,996,215 at the year end compared with $42,355,877. Net profits were $312,475, or $19,920 higher than a year ago. Substantial repayments by western borrowers were said largely responsible for a reduction from $29,543,000 to $26,871,000 in amount of mortgages and agreements for sale.

Chinese Airman Gets Commission

WINNIPEG, Jan. 27.—(CP)—Sgt. Tung Yeh, a Chinese navigator with the Royal Australian Air Force, has been commissioned a pilot officer. No. 2 training command of the R.C.A.F. announced yesterday. He is at present in Deer Lodge hospital here recovering from an operation.

Carrier-borne aviation confronted with ample land-based aerial opposition would of necessity be at a most serious disadvantage.

Of course, we shall not know the character of the Japanese answer to the main attack until we succeed in entering the area of their home defences. The only safety for us is to assume that the Japanese are not militarily stupid. Under-estimation of their strategic talents has already cost us too much to be permitted to affect our thinking on the decisive stages of the conflict. We must definitely count on the possibility that the defence of the Japanese empire may follow totally new strategic principles.
